Main Findings

This IMPACT-se report examines the textbooks of the 2023-24 academic school year to identify curricular changes. It pays particular attention to content highlighted in IMPACT-se's study of the Saudi curriculum from previous years.¹ The analysis includes a comprehensive review of 371 textbooks from the Saudi Arabian national curriculum, published between 2019 and 2024. This allows for an evaluation of both the latest curriculum developments and the evolution of educational content over the past five years. The study focuses on subjects of the Humanities, namely Arabic language, Islamic and Social Studies, Life and Family Skills, Critical Thinking, Geography, History, and Literature. The contents of the textbooks are analyzed according to UNESCO-based standards of peace and tolerance.

- Findings show continued progress toward moderation, openness, and peaceful development through a step-by-step process.
- 2023 saw the abolition of the "Courses System" study framework, whose textbooks contained many inflammatory examples, including on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.
- Almost all previously identified hateful examples regarding Jews and Christians were removed.
- Negative portrayals of infidels and polytheists have been toned down and decreased in number, as has the approach to allegedly heretical practices associated with the Shi'a and Sufism (cult of saints and tomb visitations). Some problematic examples remain, mainly relating to the damnation of polytheists and infidels in Hell.
- The removal of problematic examples promoting jihad and martyrdom, as noted in previous reports, has continued. This year, all problematic examples have been removed or altered; this includes removal of an interpretation of jihad as an offensive violent act, emphasizing instead the non-violent interpretations of jihad (namely, the jihad of the 'Self').
- Textbooks continue to highlight the importance of peace and tolerance, particularly the "Critical Thinking" books introduced in 2022.
- There has been considerable improvement with regard to gender issues. Removed examples include a statement that women must obey their husbands, a prohibition to appoint women as judges, and insinuations that women are partly to blame for being harassed. The contribution of women to Saudi society is emphasized, although textbooks maintain a traditional approach to gender roles in society and at home.

- A significant amount of homophobic content has been removed in recent years, including a reference in 2023 to homosexuality as a forbidden act because it constitutes a “monstrous atrocity” (fawahish). However, cross-dressing is still prohibited, yet in one textbook the content was altered so that it no longer constitutes a “major sin”.
- Some cultural practices are delegitimized, including imitation of the opposite sex and tribal medicine ("sorcery"). An example from 2022 asking students to report "sorcerers" to the official authorities was removed in 2023.
- Radical religious ideologies are criticized. These include extremist religious groups, primarily the Muslim Brotherhood, which is described as an incendiary terrorist organization. Hezbollah, ISIS, al-Qaeda, and Houthi militias are also denounced. Counter-terrorism laws are taught in a newly introduced Applications of Law textbook.
- Atheism is described as a dangerous phenomenon which can lead to moral corruption, crime, and the destruction of the family. In some examples, its dangers are even implicitly equated to those of religious extremism and even terrorism. On the other hand, an explanation that atheism may have occurred only in Muslim “souls that the devil has taken over” was removed.
- The curriculum reveals Saudi Arabia’s adamant dedication to the Palestinian Cause. A noteworthy reference is to “occupied east Jerusalem” as the capital of Palestine - a rarity in the curriculum of Arab or Muslim countries who overwhelmingly refer to all “Jerusalem” as the capital of Palestine.
- The portrayals of Israel and Zionism has shown further progress. Libelous examples were removed, notably those describing Zionism as a “racist European movement”; accusing Zionists of the 1969 al-Aqsa Mosque arson; and framing the expansionist intentions of Israel and takeover of religious sites as being the impetus for the Six-Day war. Israel is still not recognized on maps, but in some instances the name ‘Palestine’ was also removed. Several problematic examples still appear in some textbooks.

Introduction

IMPACT-se has reviewed the Saudi school curriculum since the early 2000s. The September 11 attacks sparked a growing interest in textbooks in the region and beyond, and questions were raised over the role of school education in radicalizing the Saudi nationals from whose ranks most of the hijackers—and Osama bin Laden himself—emerged. Subsequently, the Saudi government embarked on a gradual revision of the curriculum, aiming to strike a delicate balance between fostering openness and tolerance while upholding the deeply rooted Wahhabi religious teachings and cultural traditions.

The reformulation of Saudi curricula reflects a convergence of various motives and ideological undercurrents. Embedded within the national framework for transformation outlined in Vision 2030, the reform initiative recognizes that to address contemporary challenges and reduce reliance on fossil fuel revenue, the Saudi population must be characterized by high levels of education, openness, entrepreneurial spirit, and patriotic sentiment. There is an emphasis on mitigating dependence on foreign labor and external actors for economic sustenance and security, which highlights the importance of becoming self-reliant as a nation. Additionally, the acknowledgment that radical ideologies and policies are antithetical to the goals of peace and prosperity further underpins the rationale for educational reform efforts.

The February 2020 IMPACT-se report titled “The Winding Road to a New Identity: Saudi Arabian Curriculum 2016-19”² shed light on this process, but revealed the existence of highly problematic content: Qur’anic surahs, hadiths, and religious interpretations still incited against the non-Muslim ‘Other’; conservative ideas surrounding the role of women and gender identity were taught; antisemitic tropes pervaded the textbooks; and there remained a strong emphasis on jihad war and the virtue of martyrdom.

Subsequent IMPACT-se reports (December 2020,³ September 2021,⁴ June 2022,⁵ and May 2023⁶) revealed substantial improvements to Saudi textbooks. Our previous reports observed that while the Saudis’ progress in moderating their school curricula was aligned with their Vision 2030 aspirations, the process of content reform nonetheless reflected a “back-and-forth pendulum” movement. Accordingly, contents violating international standards of peace and tolerance are removed from textbooks, with the odd cases of similar contents remaining in other versions of the same textbooks (such as when comparing textbooks of the “Courses” to the “Pathways” systems), or of such examples reinstated in a textbook after it had been removed from an earlier edition of the same textbook. Such examples include the removal of highly inflammatory hadiths and texts perpetuating the deterministic view of Jews and Muslims being interlocked in everlasting conflicts, alongside other antisemitic tropes, as well as graphic passages condemning homosexuality and sodomy, and divine punishment in Hell for apostates and infidels. While the previous reports have occasionally identified remaining problematic content concerning such matters (particularly in Islamic references to Jews and Christians, gender issues, and the demonization of Israel and Zionism), in the 2023-24 curriculum IMPACT-se has overall found an encouraging positive trend of significant improvement in most textbooks. This 2023-24 update review demonstrates that the updated Saudi curriculum reflects reasonably consistent step-by-step progress and improvement towards the consolidation of “a more coherent and holistic educational approach”, as our 2022 report advised.

Structural Changes

The past two years saw two main structural changes in the Saudi curriculum. Firstly, in 2022-23 the school year transitioned from a semester system to a three-term system, similar to that of the UAE. Excluding high school textbooks, this entailed a move from two textbooks for a single grade and subject – one for each semester – to three textbooks, or in some cases, one textbook divided into three terms. At the same time, many textbooks, especially high school books, have been shortened, and the number of materials taught has decreased significantly. The removal of problematic content found in previous years may thus have been a result of this decrease. Notably, since 2021 the amount of Islamic Studies material has gradually decreased, as pre-2021 curriculum had 3-4 separate textbooks dealing with various religious genres (Tawhid, Fiqh, Hadith, Tafsir, Sira and Suluk). Since 2021, however, these genres have been unified under one textbook, which entailed the reduction of much content. Simultaneously, new textbooks were introduced in 2022-23, including a “Critical Thinking” textbook that supplemented another parallel textbook introduced last year. New textbooks for the second year of high school were also introduced under the high school “Pathways System” (niḡām al-masārāt) framework, now entering its third year. The second structural change seen in the 2023-24 school is the Saudi Ministry of Education’s (MoE) repeal of the “Courses System” (niḡām al-muqarrarāt) high school studies framework, which had been in use until the end of the 2022 school year.⁷ In effect, this meant that high school students would no longer learn from the 22 textbooks which were designated for the 2022 “Courses System” curriculum. This annual update review, which has examined changes made to more than 70 textbooks from the 2023-24 Saudi curriculum and more than 371 textbooks from previous curricula, indicates further progress and improvement across all fields of study.

Christians and Jews

As observed, one theme which saw substantial positive improvements was the depiction of Christians and Jews during the formative era of Islam in Islamic Studies textbooks. Nearly all instances portraying Christians and Jews disparagingly within these texts were removed from editions spanning 2023-24. Numerous problematic interpretations offered by Islamic Studies textbooks of Qur'anic verses and oral traditions (hadith), which characterize the Jews and Christians as being "liars" and "arrogant," were removed. Such interpretations, for example, accused these groups of plotting against Islam, and of distorting their own scriptures. For instance, even the common Islamic narrative that the Torah and the Gospels have been gradually falsified by Jews and Christians and subsequently "abrogated by the Shariah" has been removed from an Islamic Studies high school textbook.⁸

Overall, four problematic examples from our previous report have been removed, adding to the 12 examples removed last year. In contrast, 2021-22 saw partial removals or substitutions of explicit references to Christians and Jews using implicit terms (such as "previous nations"), whereby the reference to them is nonetheless understood in the Qur'anic context. The overall removal of 16 examples in the past two years includes accusations of treachery and animosity on behalf of the Jews and Christians against the Muslims, their plotting against Islam, their divine punishment of being turned into apes and pigs for worshipping the devil, and the branding as heresy the belief in Jesus's divinity. Prominent examples removed from 2023-24 textbooks include teaching that the Jews and Christians are liars and arrogant, and that Jews and Christians falsified their scripture. This is a continuation of the trendline seen in previous reports of removing hateful content against the "People of the Book". The four problematic examples that remain in textbooks on this theme include: teaching that the Ottoman Empire fell due to "the control of non-Muslims over influential positions"; failing to mention the Holocaust in an entire chapter about WWII; an example in a grade 7 Social Studies textbook which was removed in 2021 from a grade 6 Islamic Studies textbook, in which a sick Jewish boy avoids damnation in Hell by converting to Islam; and teaching a hadith comparing Jews, Christians and Zoroastrians to a maimed animal.

Infidels, Polytheists and Shi'is

Further progress has been made in the textbooks' understanding of what they perceive as heresy, namely the beliefs and practices of infidels, polytheists, and Shi'is. Eleven examples were removed, mainly descriptions of the punishments of infidels (i.e., non-Muslims) in Hell. Ten examples have been moderated, in what seems to be a directed attempt to mitigate such descriptions, as well as the language used to reference unbelief. In several cases, textbooks replaced the term "infidels" (kuffār), which carries strong negative connotations, with more vague terms such as "deniers" (mukaddibūn), or lengthy explanations referring to "those who deny God and His prophet (Muhammad)",⁹ which may still imply Jews, Christians, Zoroastrians, Buddhists, Hindus and other believers. Nonetheless, in some cases, Islamic Education textbooks removed the aspect of denying Muhammad's prophecy¹⁰ – a significant improvement.

Other cases of moderated content include removing the misconception that atheism is more common among non-Muslims because of their "pride and arrogance", and removing a statement teaching that atheism may have occurred only in Muslim "souls that the devil has taken over". However, this example still warns against the dangerous and adverse effects of atheism for the Muslim family and society. Other examples even draw an equivalency between the dangers of atheism and the dangers of religious extremism and terrorism. Furthermore, while still perceived as dangerous and “destructive”, students are no longer encouraged to report sorcerers to Saudi authorities, as opposed to in 2022. Allegedly “heterodox” beliefs that are associated with the Shi’a, such as the exaggerated veneration of the holy family of Muhammad (Ahl al-bayt - which also refers to the Shi’i imams as his direct descendants) and visitations to the tombs of saints (the Shi’i imams and Sufi saints) in the 2023 textbooks are labelled as things that potentially and theoretically lead to idolatry (shirk), no longer labeling it as necessarily idolatrous.¹¹ The improvements notwithstanding, 17 problematic examples were still found in textbooks, mainly concerning the damnation of polytheists and the deniers of God and Muhammad in Hell; some instances note that there will be no forgiveness for infidels, contrary to other examples that teach about the possibility of absolving their sins if they repent before death. Evidently, there are inconsistencies in how the elements under this theme are treated by Saudi curriculum developers, and the latter may even further their noteworthy progress if they adopt a more coherent and consistent approach.

Jihad* and Martyrdom

The trend of moderating problematic content on jihad and martyrdom has continued from last year. Most of the previously identified problematic examples of jihad and martyrdom had already been removed in 2021-22, including an entire textbook unit on violent jihad to spread Islam, and protect Muslim lands. The current report identified three examples removed in the 2023-24 curriculum, and one altered, with none remaining. For instance, an interpretation for Qur’anic verses about jihad removed the part about its violent aspects, emphasizing instead the non-violent interpretation of “jihad of the Self” (jihad al-nafs). Another removed reference linked jihad with Saudi Arabia’s defense policies. A lesson about jihad was altered, removing the explanation that Saudi Arabia’s war against the Houthis is a form of jihad, and thus is justified and even encouraged under religious law. A removed example from a high school textbook taught that martyrs are “alive with their Lord and sustained by Him”.

The 2023-24 curriculum consolidates the trend noted in 2022-23 of promoting the importance of peace and tolerance. The new “Critical Thinking” textbooks introduced over the past three years promote dialogue with and respect toward the ‘Other’, as well as values of peace and tolerance. The promotion of peace is apparent in several textbooks depicting Islam as a religion advocating peace; they illustrate how pivotal pacts and agreements between early Muslims and non-Muslims were established within the framework of Islam. For instance, an example introduced in 2022 teaches that “Islam [brings] the message of peace,” and provides eight examples of historic pacts between Muhammad and other non-Muslim communities such as the Contract of Medina with the Jews, the Agreement with the Jews of Khaybar, the Peace of Najran with the Christians, and two reconciliation agreements with Arab tribes. Among the reasons for these agreements are “consolidating partnerships between the followers of religions and cultures in common affairs,” and “inculcating values of human coexistence.”

Gender

We have also noted progress on gender issues, but further work yet remains. Students are taught about women’s contribution to the Saudi workforce and society, while emphasizing the importance of maintaining their modesty for their protection. A new geography textbook celebrates the first Saudi female astronaut in a unit about the universe. Compared to the previous report, six problematic examples were removed, four have been altered, and six examples remain in the 2023-24 curriculum. Among the removed examples are texts perpetuating man's superior role over women according to Islam, and the prohibition of appointing women as judges (qadl). A grade 9 Islamic Studies textbook removed a lesson stating that the wife must obey her husband (but this message reappeared in a reinstated example in a high school Islamic Studies textbook).¹² While cross-dressing is still forbidden and ridiculed, a grade 9 Islamic Studies textbook altered the content so that it is no longer construed as a major sin. Nonetheless, limited and traditional gender roles are still being taught, as some textbooks identify "strength and roughness" as male traits, and "softness, kindness, and tenderness" as female traits, while others tend to associate house chores and upkeep with the role of the wife and the daughter.

The 2020 report identified significant progress on the depiction of sexual orientation. This included the removal of highly inflammatory statements which condemned homosexuality, deemed their "crime of sodomy" punishable by death, and described homosexuality as the cause of disease and calamity. The 2023-24 report continues with mitigating the contents flagged year after year. For instance, in 2022, a reference to homosexuality as an act of sodomy was removed from one textbook but it was left unchanged in a parallel textbook. In 2023, the reference in the parallel textbook, where homosexuality was prohibited because it constitutes a "monstrous atrocity" (fawahish) was likewise removed. Nonetheless, textbooks still prohibit the imitation of the opposite sex, bolstering the argument with a hadith about Muhammad cursing those who do so. An Islamic Studies textbook for high school still promotes homophobia by instructing students to explain why the government has refused to "legalize homosexuality and sexual perversions".

Israel and Zionism

The portrayal of Israel and Zionism seems to have shown remarkable improvements, notwithstanding the recurring message in the curriculum that Saudi Arabia remains adamantly dedicated to the Palestinian Cause. Whereas previously in 2017 editions Israel was referred to by name,¹³ in editions since 2019, Israel is often referred to as "the Zionist occupation," "the Zionist entity," "the Zionist enemy", etc., not recognizing its existence and using language that promotes a rejectionist approach towards the country. However, several references to Israel as an "enemy" have been removed from the 2023 edition textbooks. Israel is still never recognized on maps, but the name "Palestine" was also removed from most of the maps in which it previously appeared, leaving the territory unnamed. This seems to be systematically applied to maps that focus on Saudi Arabia, avoiding naming countries that do not border it, such as Israel-Palestine, Egypt, and Ethiopia. A noteworthy, rare recognition of "occupied east Jerusalem" as the "capital of the Palestinian state" by the 2018 Jerusalem Summit hosted by Saudi Arabia, implicitly leaves room for Israeli claims to west Jerusalem. Overall, 21 problematic examples were removed, many of which existed in the now abolished "Courses System" textbooks. This includes a Social Studies high school textbook containing an entire chapter on the Palestinian Cause rife with content violating UNESCO standards of peace and tolerance. The contents of this chapter have been moderated and abridged, now appearing as a sub-chapter about Saudi Arabia's commitment to the Palestinian Cause.

Among the removed examples are the following: Israel's impetus for engaging in the Six-Day War explained through Zionism's fundamental goal of expansionism and the taking over of religious sites; Zionists accused of the 1969 al-Aqsa Mosque arson; a statement denying that Jews ever had independent rule in Palestine other than during the times of David and Solomon; and Zionism described as a "racist European movement". In contrast, a 2017 textbook which is no longer taught defined Zionism more neutrally as a movement aimed "at unifying the Jews of the Diaspora and settling them in Palestine".¹⁴ Our report nevertheless identified few remaining problematic examples – aside from not mentioning Israel's proper name in texts or maps, an example recounting the attempts by Zionists and Chaim Weizmann to bribe King Ibn Saud labels them as "despicable" and a "criminal audacity". Another example presents Acre as a part of Palestine, not Israel.

Regional and Domestic Issues

On the theme of regional and domestic issues, current textbooks maintain the trend of underlining the preservation of the Saudi regime's stability, evident in their treatment of concepts potentially challenging its integrity. The material found in textbooks underscores the authoritative governance of the Saudi ruler, while scrutinizing separatist movements and contemporary ideological currents. Notably, these movements, such as the Muslim Brotherhood, Hezbollah, ISIS, al-Qaeda, and Houthi militias, are accused of propagating terrorism and extremist doctrines. Of particular emphasis is the critique directed towards the Muslim Brotherhood, characterized as a terrorist entity masquerading under the guise of Islamic representation, yet fundamentally undermining religious principles while perpetuating unrest. This narrative underscores the urgency of countering such ideological currents, especially in their recruitment strategies that exploit impressionable youth through deceptive methods. A newly introduced Applications of Law textbook dedicates a lesson to counter-terrorism laws, in which students are instructed to identify the crimes and punishments according to case studies; they are also taught about the Islamic Military Counter Terrorism Coalition, a military alliance between 41 Muslim countries initiated by Saudi Arabia.

That said, Saudi textbooks also criticize revolutionary and separatist non-religious movements and trends, which promote atheism and promiscuity. For instance, the legitimacy of the Arab Spring revolutions is still questioned by accusing terrorist organizations of "playing a great part in inciting them." The Ottomans are still portrayed as the prime enemies of the first two Saudi states, delegitimized as "aggressors" (mu'tadi) who neglected their protection of Islam's holy sites. Iran continues to be largely marginalized in its pivotal role within the Middle Eastern context, notably evidenced by the depiction of the Persian Gulf as the "Arab Gulf" in scholarly discourse. Furthermore, implicit criticism is discernible in texts documenting Saudi intervention vis-à-vis Iran and the Houthis during Yemen's civil conflict. However, the claim that the assassination of the second caliph was a Persian conspiracy, which appeared in a grade 5 Social Studies textbook, was removed from the 2023 edition. Another removed example is a story from a Critical Thinking textbook which denounced

Western values through criticizing the judgment of an American flight instructor upon realizing that the plane was about to crash.

Peace and Tolerance

The curriculum improvement explored in this review demonstrates that the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to adopt peace and tolerance standards in its textbooks.¹⁵ Saudi efforts to reform the curriculum reveal a reasonably consistent step-by-step approach in many school subjects, and one therefore hopes that the approach will be applied to the handful of problematic content remaining in some textbooks. Alongside modifications to textbooks, it may be beneficial to introduce additional content which supports international standards. Given Saudi Arabia's leading position in the Muslim world, the reform of Saudi curricula sends a strong and encouraging message for curriculum improvement for other Muslim-majority countries.

Methodology

This IMPACT-se report presents a detailed review of the textbooks for the current academic year (2023-24), juxtaposing them to our analysis of the textbooks published in previous years. Our sample comprises of 371 textbooks, covering publications from 2019 to 2024. Applying a thorough examination to this wide scope of textbooks, which includes tracking changes and trends across multiple academic years, allows for presenting an accurate and comprehensive evaluation of the developments and progress made to the Saudi curriculum over the past five years. The study focuses on subjects of the Humanities, namely Arabic language, Islamic and Social Studies, Life and Family Skills, Critical Thinking, Geography, History, and Literature. The contents of the textbooks are analyzed according to UNESCO-based standards of peace and tolerance. Examples are organized thematically, with each section detailing examples that have been removed, altered, remaining intact, and noteworthy content, in that order (excluding the Peace and Tolerance section, which begins with the latter). Each example includes a reference, a short contextual analysis, and an image of the lesson as it appears in the textbook, followed directly by a translation of the Arabic text. The report also includes appendices of inflammatory content removed in previous years.

The 2023 edition of the textbook removed multiple accusations against Christians and Jews of intentionally distorting their scriptures. Previous editions of the textbook taught students that Jews and Christians have distorted, “altered, changed, detracted, and added lies and falsehood” to the Bible and the Gospel. The 2022 textbook explained that one purpose of the Qur’an is to argue with Jews and Christians by “affirming the distortion of their books;” as it “challenges them with regards to what existed in their books before they distorted and falsified them.” The new edition removed the references to the distortion of the scriptures, and now uses moderate and contextualized language, teaching that the Qur’an debated with a specific group of Jews and Christians in ancient Arabia, and called on them to join Islam.

Third: It is protected from distortion, detraction, or addition

Allah has guaranteed to preserve His book, as the Almighty said: “It is certainly We Who have revealed the Reminder, and it is certainly We Who will preserve it.” (Al-Hijr, 9), for the Qur’an is the book that Allah has guaranteed to preserve its wording and meaning among the revealed scriptures. The Almighty said: “It cannot be proven false from any angle. It is a revelation from the All-Wise, Praiseworthy.” (Fussilat, 42).

42). Since it was revealed to this present day, the Book of Allah has encountered those who oppose it, disbelieve in it, and deny it. However, none of them was able to harm it by detraction or addition. Rather, we received it preserved and fresh just as it was sent down, and it has not been altered, changed, or distorted. As for the previous books, Allah did not commit to preserving them, rather He entrusted their preservation to their people, but they altered, changed, detracted, and added lies and falsehood. The Almighty said: "Indeed, We revealed the Torah, containing guidance and light, by which the prophets, who submitted themselves to Allah, made judgments for Jews. So too did the rabbis and scholars judge according to Allah's Book, with which they were entrusted and of which they were made keepers." (Al-Ma'idah, 44).

Characteristics of the Medinan Surahs:

2. Arguing with the People of the Book, who are the Jews and Christians, affirming the distortion of their books, and calling them to join Islam.

Benefits of the Qur'an's Stories:

The Qur'an's stories have many benefits, among the most important of which are the following:

5. It confronts the People of the Book by arguing that they concealed the evidence and guidance revealed therein, and it challenges them with regards to what existed in their books before they distorted and falsified them, as with the Almighty's saying: "All food was lawful for the children of Israel, except what Israel made unlawful for himself before the Torah was revealed. Say, 'Bring the Torah and read it, if your claims are true.'" (Al Imran, 93).

Since it was revealed to this present day, the Book of Allah has encountered those who oppose it, disbelieve in it, and deny it. However, none of them was able to harm it by detraction or addition. Rather, we received it preserved and fresh just as it was sent down, and it has not been altered, changed, or distorted.

Characteristics of the Medinan Surahs:

2. A group of the People of the Book lived in Medina, and some of the verses of the Medinan surahs were meant to debate with them and to call them to join Islam, using arguments, proofs, and evidence.

Benefits of the Qur'an's Stories:

The Qur'an's stories have many benefits, among the most important of which are the following:

5. Debating with the People of the Book, and discussing with them using arguments, proofs, and evidence.

In a lesson on the different types of Qur'anic argument against unbelievers, the textbook gave an example of a verse, which according to the textbook's authors "refutes the Jews' lie." The verse criticizes the Jews for hiding a part of their scripture, and for claiming that God has revealed nothing to any human being. By choosing a verse which criticizes the Jews as an example, and by describing the verse as refuting "the Jews' lie," (wording which does not appear in the verse itself) the 2022 edition of the textbook may have fostered a negative portrayal of Jews as a whole. The 2023 edition removed this example, replacing it with a verse which does not criticize Jews or any other religious group.

Examples of Argument and Dialogue in the Qur'an:

1. Obliging the addressee to ask himself questions about what he believes to be true, so he acknowledges what he is denying: such as Allah's saying in refuting the Jews' lies: "And they have not shown Allah His proper reverence when they said, 'Allah has revealed nothing to any human being.' Say, 'Who then revealed the Book brought forth by Moses as a light and guidance for people, which you split into separate sheets—revealing some and hiding much? You have been taught what neither you nor your forefathers knew.' Say, 'Allah!' Then leave them to amuse themselves with falsehood." (Al-An'am, 91).

The textbook no longer teaches that the Bible and the New Testament were falsified by the Jews and the Christians, but rather focuses on the idea that they are revelatory scriptures. The 2022 edition removed all references to the idea of “falsification” (tahrīf), and taught that these books are divine books a Muslim must believe in, but that they were nullified by the Qur’an. The 2021 edition taught that the Bible and New Testament (with a greater emphasis on the Bible) were sent down by Allah but were eventually “overtaken with corruption” and falsified by the Jews and Christians. In the 2023 edition, the sentence about the books being nullified by the Qur’an was removed.

A Grade 8 social studies textbook teaches that one of the reasons for the downfall of the Ottomans is "the control of non-Muslims over the influential positions in the state." This implies that non-Muslims in the Ottoman empire, likely referring mostly to Christians and Jews, were not loyal to it, and possibly even tried to harm it from within.

وكان من أبرز العوامل التي أسهمت في نهاية الدولة العثمانية ما يأتي:

- ١- الابتعاد عن الشريعة الإسلامية وسيطرة غير المسلمين على مواقع النفوذ فيها، وانتشار الممارسات غير الشرعية.
- ٢- ضعف السلاطين المتأخرين وميلهم للترف.
- ٣- اتساع مساحة أراضي الدولة العثمانية وتنوع عناصر المجتمع فيها.
- ٤- تردي أوضاع الجيش، وتدخله في شؤون الدولة الإدارية والسياسية.
- ٥- حروب البلقان التي أنهكت الدولة.
- ٦- تعامل الدولة العثمانية السيئ مع الأراضي التي تحتلها.
- ٧- إهمال تنمية البلاد التي يسيطرون عليها.

Following are some of the most important factors for the downfall of the Ottoman state:

A Social Studies textbook implies that Jews are damned to Hell, in a passage about a sick Jewish boy who was told to embrace Islam by the Prophet; when he did, the Prophet praised Allah for saving the boy from Hellfire. Interestingly, this is taught as a part of a lesson about treating neighbors well, as Muhammad's visit of the sick boy is given as an example of his good treatment of his neighbors. It should be noted that the same tradition previously appeared in other Saudi textbooks, and had been removed (see appendix).

ومن أمثلة تعامله ﷺ مع الجار: أن غلاماً يهودياً كان خادماً لنبينا ﷺ، فمرض، فأتاه ﷺ
يعوده، ففقد عند رأسه، وقال له: «أَسْلِمَ». فنظر الغلام إلى أبيه وهو عنده، فقال الأب له:

Treating Neighbors Well

One of the examples of [Muhammad's good] treatment of neighbors is as follows: A young Jewish slave used to serve the Prophet and he became sick. So the Prophet went to visit him. He sat near his head and said: 'embrace Islam.' The servant looked at his father, who was sitting there; his father told him: "obey Abul-Qasim [Muhammad]" and the boy embraced Islam. The Prophet came out saying: 'Praise be to Allah who saved the boy from hellfire.'

A grade 7 Life and Family Skills textbook quotes a hadith describing Judaism, Christianity, and Zoroastrianism as false, comparing believers of these religions to a “maimed” animal. The hadith quoted describes Islam as the natural and innate religion, saying that every infant is born as a Muslim, and then his parents make him Jewish, Christian or Zoroastrian, using the analogy of animals born whole and not maimed. Choosing this hadith, which is not the core subject of the lesson but only a means to teach about the family's responsibilities towards children, seems to gratuitously promote hatred towards non-Muslims in an unrelated context.

Responsibilities of the Family:

The family is the first to receive the infant and embrace him, then he grows up and takes on values and principles, and grows and develops physically, intellectually, and mentally so that he becomes a good and active member of society, as Abu Huraira reported that Allah's Messenger said: "No child is born except in the innate [religion] and then his parents make him Jewish, Christian or Magian [Zoroastrian], just as a beast is born whole. Do you find some among them (born) maimed?"

A 2023 edition of the textbook removed a hadith stating that it is better to swear by God and lie than to swear by other deities and tell the truth. In 2022, an example on swearing by Allah was slightly improved by removing the title of the paragraph and the conclusion of the hadith. Therefore, while problematic notions remain, they become vaguer. The 2021 edition taught students that it is better to lie in swearing by Him, than to sincerely swear by other deities, thus presenting polytheism as worse than lying.

In 2023, Qur'anic verses from Surah al-Ra'd (25-28) stating that infidels will not receive Allah's mercy and will suffer for all eternity in what is assumed to be Hell are no longer taught. The verses criticize infidels for being "prideful of this worldly life" with its "fleeting enjoyment" instead of thinking about the afterlife, for which they will suffer in "the worst abode". In 2021, the verses were concluded with a statement that "unbelief is the reason for being expelled from divine mercy and for destruction in Hell", therefore understanding the latter as being "the worst abode". This addition was removed in 2022. As such, Hell was no longer explicitly mentioned. In light of this change, the conclusion which appeared in the omitted sentence has become in 2022 an implicit message which students may be able to derive from the Qur'anic text. The entire textbook was removed in 2023.

In 2023, a statement teaching students that Muslims must not kill people except in cases where the judicial authority allows it, as a part of an explanation of the Qur'anic Al-Furqan Surah, was removed. This was already improved in 2021, as the 2020 edition taught that leaving Islam and adultery are justifiable reasons for leaders to kill people.

When summarizing verses from the Al-Shu'ara Surah, students were taught that infidels will not benefit from signs and omens telling them to change their ways. Instead, they will “learn their lesson” through “severe punishment” (instead of “calamities and danger” in 2019). Slight, inconsequential changes were made in 2022, but in 2023 the entire statement was removed.

A chapter about the Qur’anic al-Baqarah Surah stated that infidels insist on “unbelief and disbelief”; therefore, Allah has denied faith from entering their hearts, and dictated that their ultimate fate is torture in Hell.

While the passage was entirely removed in the 2022 edition of the textbook, it was reinstated in 2023, but with significant changes no longer rendering it problematic. The new passage replaced the term “infidels” with the vaguer term “those who turn away from truth”. The text also no longer teaches that their fate is torture in Hell, merely stating that God has denied faith from entering their hearts.

In a lesson about belief in Allah, it is explained that all people are born monotheists, and some are deviated from this belief by demons. To better understand the Arabic terminology, in 2023 a footnote was added stating that these demons “prohibited them what God [Allah] had permitted them,” and commanded them to “associate with God what He had not sent down any authority for.” The first part may possibly refer to Jews, who are accused in Islam of prohibiting things that Allah had permitted. The second part seems to allude to the Christians, who associate Jesus with God.

Altered:

In 2023, a statement declaring that polytheists are “deviating from the truth” in assuming that entities other than Allah can serve to protect them has been slightly moderated: the 2022 edition referred to the category of ‘polytheists’ as being led astray from the truth, thereby implying that all groups that may be labelled as polytheists are in reality deviants and are led astray. However, in 2023 polytheism is discussed as a “severe” notion that entails “turning away from the truth”, which does not single out any specific group that may exist, instead addressing a theoretical disposition. This change in effect shifts criticism from groups or individuals to ideas and concepts, which people have the capacity or agency to associate with or dissociate from. The idols’ failure to protect the polytheists is compared to a spiderweb’s failure to protect the spider. This example was reintroduced in 2021 after it had been previously removed.

Altered:

In 2023, references to the disgracing of infidels that would occur on the Day of Resurrection was removed in a chapter teaching about the event. Instead of describing the infidels' fate using Qur'anic verses which state that they will be gathered "on their faces, blind, dumb and deaf" with the "blazing fire increasing" for them, a less gruesome and more neutral description is given in respect of "those who deny God and His Messengers". The mitigation of violent descriptions notwithstanding, the decision to replace "infidels" with "those who deny God and His Messengers" may potentially refer to those who deny Muhammad, i.e., Jews, Christians, Zoroastrians, Buddhists and other religious groups. Furthermore, in the 2023 edition a statement explaining that good deeds are not taken into account when ascertaining the character of infidels, because they have none, was removed.

In the 2022 edition, the first reference to the section to "infidel" was replaced with "wrong-doer", thus attempting to tone down the invective. More descriptions about the suffering and humiliation of the infidels were removed, such as the infidels 'desire that "God will destroy them and turn them into dust" due to the harshness of their humiliation, as well as an activity for students to "describe some of the situations of the infidels on the Day of Resurrection".

The Almighty Allah mentioned several situations the infidels and wrongdoers will encounter on that day, as the Almighty said:

"Then on the Day of Resurrection He will disgrace them and say, 'Where are my partners for whom you used to oppose [the believers]?' Those who were given knowledge will say, 'Indeed disgrace, this Day, and evil are upon the disbelievers'" (An-Nahl [Al-Nahl: 27])

And the infidels will be gathered in the most gruesome manner "[...] on their faces blind, dumb and deaf, their refuge is Hell; every time it subsides we increase them in blazing fire" [Al-Isra': 97].

They will suffer humiliation and submission [citing Al-Sajda: 12].

In 2023, polytheists (“idolators”) are no longer presented as hypocritical and as performers of “ill deeds,” criticized for believing in Allah in “times of distress” while associating with Him “in times of prosperity.” These descriptions, which appeared in the 2022 edition and referred to “idolators”, in the 2023 edition refer to “those who turn away from Allah”. Furthermore, the belief that Allah is the only true God, as opposed to associating Him with other deities was changed to merely acknowledging him as God in times of distress and ignoring him in times of prosperity.

In 2022, students learned that hell is a place of “ultimate disgrace” that was specifically built and reserved as a place for the infidels who deny Allah, His laws, and His messengers, thus implying Jews and Christians. In 2023, the point of denying the messengers of Allah and following His laws was removed, and thus Jews and Christians are no longer alluded to in the example. Furthermore, references to Hell as the abode of “infidels”, and indeed any mention of infidels, was also removed.

Students are no longer taught that those who perform the popular Muslim tradition of visiting tombs of sacred figures (ziyārah) are “of evil nature,” (shirār al-khulq) and that they were cursed by Muhammad. A unit condemning this practice was significantly shortened, removing passages describing those who perform it as “of evil nature”, and saying that those who “treat tombs as mosques” were cursed by Muhammad. A major shi’i tenet is the visitation (ziyārah) of the graves of the imams. Notably, the 13th century scholar Ibn Taymiyya, one of the foremost formulators of the Hanbali legal school which is prominent in Saudi Arabia, strictly forbade the practice of ziyārah. Visitation of tombs can also be considered a Sufi tenet. These references were removed in 2022, but the textbook nonetheless labelled the practice as both heterodox and idolatrous, thereby implying that those who practice it are doomed to Hell, as polytheists are taught elsewhere in the textbook to be punished in Hell. In 2023, labelling the practice as idolatrous or heterodox was removed, but the textbook still references the unlawful innovations (bida) pertaining to it that appeared already in 2022 (with insignificant alterations). The list of unlawful innovations still refers to acts that may be associated with Shi’i or Sufi groups, such as “designating specific days or times to visit the tombs,” or “travelling to visit the tombs of prophets and saints”.

A hadith teaching that adultery and apostasy are justified reasons for killing a person was removed in 2022, but reintroduced in 2023. The textbook still teaches that killing a person is allowed under certain circumstances, but that this should only be determined by a legal ruling of the justice system. It should also be noted that the new 2023 textbook edition reinstated a reference forbidding to “attack an inviolable soul” which was removed in 2022 (although it described the killing of such a soul), and was replaced with “killing a Muslim.” Students are now also taught that Islam is religion of “justice and righteousness” that takes revenge on the oppressor for the oppressed, as students are instructed to contemplate the type of society which would exist there if anyone took the law into their own hands and exacted revenge.

Students are taught a hadith about “the seven destructive things,” which include polytheism and sorcery. Both are considered to be great sins, and Muslims are ordered not to follow in the footsteps of infidels and polytheists and to avoid these practices at all costs. In the 2022 edition, students were not only taught to beware of sorcerers, but also to report sorcerers to the authorities, to expose them to the public. In the 2023 edition, however, this latest addition was removed. Furthermore, the 2022 accusations against sorcerers of “corrupting the land and unjustly consuming wealth” were modified to more general warnings of causing “religious, health, social, and moral damages”.

Altered:

In 2023, extreme beliefs (ghuluww, often understood as “heterodoxy”) known to be adopted by some Shi’a and Sufis are no longer labeled as “idolatry” (which is condemned elsewhere in the textbooks as punishable by Hellfire) but as beliefs that may cause idolatry. In 2022, the chapter on holding extreme beliefs concerning the family of the Prophet (Al al-bayt) contained a section delineating examples of several beliefs that are labelled as signs of idolatry (shirk). Notably, al al-bayt is a term commonly used by Shi’is to refer to themselves and the imams (‘Ali ibn Abi Talib and his 11 descendants). The examples include praying to al al-bayt for salvation instead of God, claiming that they hold powers and knowledge usually reserved for God or the prophets. Although the previous pages explain that the term al al-bayt refers to all members of the family of the Prophet (such as his wives and other prominent figures), the popular practices and beliefs explained in this section and the subsequent page (on the visitation of tombs of saints) indicate a strong relation to Shi’ism and Sufism. In 2023, the different labels of idolatry were removed, as well as the statement that “some people have held extreme views about them”, thus making the discussion more theoretical than that of actual references to groups within Islam.

Altered:

In multiple Islamic education textbooks, the word “infidel” (kāfir), which carries strong negative connotations, was removed or replaced with other more neutral terms such as “non-Muslims” or “deniers”. This change was made both in examples that portray non-Muslims in a negative manner and in neutral or positive examples, such as passages encouraging respect for non-Muslim neighbors, etc.

Bliss of the Grave and Torment of the Grave:

There is much evidence proving the Torment of the Grave and the Bliss of the Grave, such as the hadith of Anas ibn Malik, who reported that the Prophet said: ... [the believer is told:] God replaced your place in Hell with a pace in Heaven...

As for the infidel or hypocrite, he says: I do not know, I used to say what the people say, ... Then he is struck with an iron hammer between his ears and shouts a cry that everyone next to him can hear...

There are a few conditions to accept a testimony of a witness, including:

1- He has to be Muslim, as it is not permissible that an infidel testifies about a Muslim, as the Almighty said: "And bring to witness two witnesses from among your men...". An infidel is not from among our men, and he is not among those approved for testimony. Altered:

In 2023, a lesson on atheism no longer teaches students that it is more common among non-Muslims because of their “pride and arrogance,” as was taught in 2022. The explanation that atheism may have occurred only in Muslim “souls that the devil has taken over” was also removed. However, students still learn that both communication with atheists and psychological disorders may lead to atheism: atheism is presented as dangerous to society because it destroys families and leads to “moral corruption, and the abundance of crime in society.”

Students are taught that polytheists shall spend all eternity in Hell after they die. The 2022 edition adds a Qur'anic verse stating that God does not forgive polytheism (Al-Nisa', 4: 48). This addition not only solidifies the judgment in the Qur'an, thereby granting it further legal legitimacy, but also makes explicit the notion that there will be no forgiveness for polytheism – in spite of the inclusion of other lessons teaching that polytheists may be forgiven if they repent before death.

A lesson on heaven and hell, which was altered in 2022 and maintained in 2023, states that anyone who does not believe in God and his prophet Muhammad will be sent to Hell. This is a slight change from the 2021 edition, in which people of Hell were said to be “every infidel and hypocrite,” whereas it has now been replaced with “anyone who does not believe in God, and turns away from his religion and the message of his Prophet [Muhammad].” Although the word infidel, which carries negative connotations, is no longer used, the meaning remains, as there is no significant difference between people who do not believe in Muhammad's prophecy – i.e., non-Muslims – and the term “infidels.” In addition, the textbook also still explains that those who practice polytheism will be sent to Hell.

In a passage on different types of polytheism practiced nowadays, the cult of saints and praying to the dead were removed. These acts are common throughout the Islamic world and were described in previous years as polytheistic, while polytheism is condemned elsewhere in the textbooks as punishable by Hellfire. Therefore, many Muslims who perform these actions were until now indirectly described as polytheists who will be punished in the Hereafter. It should also be noted that the practice of visitation of graves of righteous people is commonly seen as a Shi'i and Sufi tenet, and therefore it is possible that the 2021 textbook was implicitly criticizing these groups.

Nevertheless, students are taught about other practices that are prevalent nowadays in the Islamic world and are taught to be a form of idolatry (polytheism), such as worshiping stars, genies, prophets, rocks and trees, and engaging in sorcery. Consequently, those who perform these actions are still indirectly labelled as polytheists who will be punished in the Hereafter. In addition, the acts of worshiping graves and praying to the dead are still alluded to, as praying and prostrating to anything other than God is mentioned as element of polytheistic acts prevalent nowadays.

It should be noted that the example was transferred from the grade 4 textbook to the grade 6 textbook, as a part of an entire chapter on polytheism that was moved.

An explanation of one of the articles of faith in Islam - the belief in the Day of Judgement - describes Hell as “the home of painful punishment,” specifically reserved for “deniers.” The term “deniers” was added in 2022 instead of “infidels and hypocrites [Muslims whose faith is insincere].” Although the textbook seemingly no longer teaches that infidels will be punished in Hell, the term “deniers” can likely be understood as referring to those who deny Muhammad’s prophecy – i.e. non-Muslims.

Whereas in 2020 the passage explained that those who had mocked Muhammad and harassed him were punished in this world and awaited humiliation in the afterlife, in 2021 the passage stated that they were “killed in this world.” In 2022, the entire section on the mockery of the enemies of Muhammad was removed from the textbook. The below textbook outlines the reasons why worshipping saints and pious figures is wrong. In the 2020 and 2021 editions, the term used for describing the incorrect reasons – that they are taken as “intercessors” to God – is shufa’a, commonly used by Shi’is and Sufis to describe the unique role of the imams or Sufi saints, respectively. However, in 2022 any explicit reference to the term was removed, while criticism of the act remains nonetheless in general terms, namely that of seeking agency and proximity as extensions of God.

In a lesson teaching Qur'anic verses which discuss the fate of wrongdoers in Hell, much of the graphic descriptions of their experience in Hell has been removed, as well as most references to infidels. The 2022 version still taught the verses but did not give detailed explanations of the infidels' punishment, and instead focuses on the reward of the believers. This remains the same in 2023. Although most references to infidels were removed from the text, the unit's title is still "The State of Infidels on the Day of Resurrection". The textbook's 2021 edition described the "infidels" burning in Hell in graphic detail, explaining that this is their deserved punishment. Students were taught Qur'anic verses according to which people who refute or mock Islamic beliefs will burn in hell, and their apologies will not be accepted. The textbook then explained the verses, saying that infidels will rightfully deserve this punishment, and that the flames of Hellfire will burn and mutilate their faces.

نَتَائِجُ الشِّرْكِ

❶ أَنَّهُ لَا يَغْفِرُهُ.

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: ﴿إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَغْفِرُ أَنْ يُشْرَكَ بِهِ، وَيَغْفِرُ مَا دُونَ ذَلِكَ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ﴾^(١).

❷ أَنَّهُ الشِّرْكَ يُحِبِّطُ جَمِيعَ الْأَعْمَالِ، أَي: يُبْطِلُهَا.

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: ﴿وَلَوْ أَشْرَكُوا لَحَبِطَ عَنْهُمْ مَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ﴾^(٢).

❸ أَنَّهُ الْمَشْرِكُ مُخَلَّدٌ فِي النَّارِ.

قَالَ اللَّهُ تَعَالَى: ﴿إِنَّهُ مَنْ يُشْرِكْ بِاللَّهِ فَقَدْ حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ الْجَنَّةَ وَمَأْوَاهُ النَّارُ وَمَا لِلظَّالِمِينَ مِنْ أَنْصَارٍ﴾^(٣).

The Consequences of idolatry:

1. Allah doesn't forgive it.

Allah Almighty said: "Indeed, Allah does not forgive association with Him, but He forgives what is less than that for whom He wills." (An-Nisa [The Women], 48)

2. Idolatry makes all deeds worthless, meaning: it cancels them.

Allah Almighty said: "But if they had associated others with Allah, then worthless for them would be whatever they were doing." (Al-An'am [The Cattle], 88)

3. The idolater will be in Hell for all of eternity.

Allah Almighty said: "Whoever associates others with Allah [in worship] will surely be forbidden Paradise by Allah. Their home will be the Fire. And the wrongdoers will have no helpers." (Al-Ma'idah [The Table Spread], 72)

Students learn from the textbook's interpretation of a Qur'anic verse that "idolatry is the greatest sin" against which Allah has warned mankind. The textbook promises punishment for those who worship other deities besides Allah. Another verse used to exemplify this was removed in 2022, but the text remained mostly unchanged. In 2023, the text was marginally improved again, leaving the exacted punishment totally undetermined, whereas in 2022 the punishment was stipulated as being one which had already been exacted upon earlier nations; these may have included the bygone Arab nations of 'Ad and Thamud mentioned in the Qur'an.

A paragraph which discussed both violent and non-violent jihad was removed in 2022, rendering the lesson significantly shorter. Following a hadith about “the seven destructive things”, which include “fleeing from the battlefield”, students are taught that if the Saudi king calls upon people to fight, it is forbidden to flee the battlefield. The 2022 edition stated this in the context of the ruler calling upon others to undertake the duty of jihad, thus linking the Islamic idea of jihad to the Saudi state, presenting its wars as holy religious wars. In 2023, the reference to jihad was substituted with the “protecting the homeland”, therefore effacing the link between the ideal of jihad and Saudi Arabia’s defense policies.

Hadith (1), Grades 10-12 (Joint Track), 2021, p. 99  12. Jihad in Islam is a general term that contains several meanings that revolve around the expression “exerting effort,” whatever its positive theme may be. This includes seeking knowledge and sustenance, bringing oneself to do good, to abandon evil, and to spend money. This also includes the meaning of fighting, which Allah Almighty legitimized to protect lawful rights and freedoms. Allah Almighty said: “Fight in the cause of Allah [only] against those who wage war against you, but do not exceed the limits. Allah does not like transgressors.” [Al-Baqarah: 190]	Islamic Studies - Hadith (1), Grades 10 - 12 (Courses System), 2022, p. 66  8. If our ruler, the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia - may God protect him, assigns a group to fight and calls upon them to perform jihad for the sake of Allah, they are forbidden from deserting the battle, because this is among the greatest of sins, as it is fleeing from the battlefield, which is forbidden in this hadith. The Almighty said: “O believers! When you face the disbelievers in battle, never turn your backs to them. And whoever does so on such an occasion—unless it is a maneuver or to join their own troops—will earn the displeasure of Allah, and their home will be Hell. Turning one’s back on war, meaning the fleeing from the battlefield, because this is among the greatest of sins, as appeared in this hadith. Therefore, if our ruler, the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia - may God protect him, assigns a group to fight to protect our homeland, they are forbidden from deserting the battle, with the exception of those who flee with the intention of deceiving the enemy, of moving between combat groups. Altered:

A lesson about jihad was altered in the 2023 edition of the textbook, removing the explanation that Saudi Arabia's war against the Houthis is a form of jihad, and thus is justified and even encouraged under religious law. This outlined the Saudi Sunni outlook of jihad against the Shi'a, albeit a defensive rather than an offensive description, in the context of the civil war in Yemen, the intensity of which has indeed declined over the past year. In 2022, the text removed a description of violent jihad as the "climax of Islam". The textbook still teaches a hadith that presents jihad as the action "dearest to Allah." There is also no discussion on the spiritual and peaceful forms of jihad, and only violent jihad is discussed. Students are taught that only the ruler can declare jihad and call upon the state's authorities, as well as any other group from "ally and sister states" to join. In the 2021 edition, text teaching that jihad specifically means "fighting the enemies for the protection of religion, land, and worshipers" was removed.

Students are taught a poem written by the pre- and early Islamic poet al-Khansa, in which she expresses sorrow over her brother's death. The textbook then compares Khansa's reaction to the death of her brother when she was a polytheist, and her reaction to the death of her four sons in the battle of Yarmuk between the Arab-Muslim forces and the Byzantines. The textbook teaches that while Jahili (pre-Islamic) poetry expresses fear of death, Islam sees death as an honor bestowed by God. The textbook then teaches that Khansa accepted her sons' death in battle and said: "Praise be to God that honored me with their death...".

The Reality of Death by al-Khansa during the Jahiliyya and Islam.

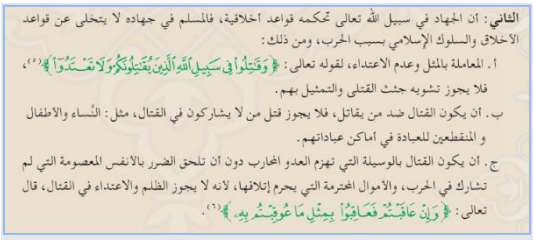

When examining the pre-Islamic elegiac poetry, one finds a clear fear of death and a concern for life, with no reference to belief in another life, or thought of the Resurrection or Judgement [...]

The reality of death is different in Islamic [poetry], as it is an honor and distinction for her [al-Khansa] [...] her response upon hearing about the martyrdom of her four sons in the battle of Yarmuk is an example of acceptance, satisfaction, and belief in the idea of divine predestination ["fate and destiny"]. She thus responded: "Praise be to God that honored me with their death..."

A lesson about jihad in a grade 9 Islamic education textbook removed an example expressing reservations over causing harm to those who do not participate in war. The text previously taught that harming innocent people and their property is forbidden “as long it is not necessary to do so”, implying that this might be allowed in some extreme cases. The 2023 edition of the textbook removed this remark, now teaching that harming the innocent is entirely forbidden.

This high school Islamic Studies textbook no longer teaches that fornication and homosexuality are forbidden because they constitute monstrous atrocities (fawahish). While past editions of this textbook taught this as a part of summary of the main ideas of a Qur'anic verse, this edition removed the reference to fornication and homosexuality, now speaking about the prohibition of committing atrocities in a vaguer manner. It should be noted that the parallel 2022 textbook of the Courses System, which is no longer taught, already removed this content last year.

Students were taught that women are to blame for being sexually harassed by men: the textbook interprets a hadith, teaching that women are warned against doing “or showing” what seduces men, as well as resembling the ways of men. The textbook was removed in 2023.

Abu Huraira reported: The Messenger of Allah said: “Two are the types of the denizens of Hell whom I did not see: people having flogs like the tails of the ox with them and they would be beating people, and the women who would be dressed but appear to be naked, who would be inclined (to evil) and make their husbands incline toward it. Their heads would be like the humps of the bukht camel inclined to one side. They will not enter Paradise and they will not smell its odor whereas its odor would be smelt from such and such distance.”

7. The hadith warns women against being lenient with maintaining their modesty, or against doing or showing something that invites men to be seduced by them, in addition to imitating men.

A paragraph teaching that women “cannot” be appointed as judges and that “their power is canceled and rulings invalid” was removed in the 2022 textbook. The justification given for this claim was a hadith stating that people under a female ruler “will never be successful.” The entire textbook (Fiqh 3) was removed in 2023, and in the Fiqh (2) textbook this statement does not appear.

رابعًا: الذُّكُورَةُ، فلا يجوز تَوَلِيَّةُ المرأةِ القضاءَ، وإذا وَلَّيَتْ فَإِنَّ وِلَايَتَهَا باطلة وقضاؤها غير نافذ، والدليل على هذا: حديث أبي بَكْرَةَ رضي الله عنه قال: قال رسول الله ﷺ: «لَنْ يَفْلَحَ قَوْمٌ وَلَوْ أَمَرَهُمْ امْرَأَةٌ». رواه البخاري. ^(١)

Fourth: Maleness, as women cannot be appointed judges. If they are indeed appointed as such, then their power is canceled, and their rulings are not valid. Evidence for this can be found in the hadith of Abu Bakrah: “A people who make a woman their ruler will never be successful.”

In 2022, a chapter on Islamic law with regards the family structure reinforced patriarchal gender roles, stating that women must obey men as they are their guardians. This structure is presented as integral to successful married life. The entire the unit on the principles of legal stipulation within the family, which included this example, was removed in 2023.

الخاصية السابعة: جعل الشرع للرجل القوامة على المرأة بالمعروف، وهذا أدعى لاستمرار الحياة الزوجية، فإن الأسرة لا بد لها من والٍ يتولاها حتى تسير السفينة إلى بر الأمان، وأمره بالرفق بها وأوصاه بها خيرًا، ثم أمر المرأة بطاعته في المعروف، كل هذا لتستمر الحياة الزوجية على أحسن حال، ولأجل قوامته على الأسرة أمره بمراعاة مسؤوليته عليها، والقيام برعايتها والتفقه عليها والحفاظ عليها مما يشينها ويبعدها عن طريق ربها، كما قال تعالى: ﴿الرِّجَالُ قَوَّامُونَ عَلَى النِّسَاءِ بِمَا فَضَّلَ اللَّهُ بَعْضَهُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ وَبِمَا أَنْفَقُوا مِنْ أَمْوَالِهِمْ﴾ [النساء: ٣٤]. وقال: ﴿يَأْتِيهَا مِنَ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا قَوْلًا أَنْفُسُهُمْ وَأَهْلِيكُمْ نَارًا وَقَوْدُهَا النَّاسُ وَالْحِجَارَةُ﴾ [التحریم: ٦].

The Seventh Distinguishing Quality [of Islamic laws regarding the family structure]: Shariah has given men guardianship over women in what is right... It has commanded the woman to obey him in what is right, and all of this is in order for marital life to go on in the best way possible . . . Students were taught that imitating the opposite gender is "among the greatest of sins" in Islam, as it is considered a "deviation from normality." This was supported by a prophetic hadith, stating that God curses such people. The textbook was removed in 2023.

Imitating the opposite sex, that is to say, that young men take on the resemblance of women and act softly like them, and the young women who behave like men. That conduct is legally forbidden, because it is a deviation and an inversion of innate characteristics, and a thing preventing each of the sexes from performing its true role in life, and because it entails bad effects on the individual and the community. Islam has therefore taken a strict line in preventing it, and classifying it among the gravest sins. According to a hadith by Ibn Abbas, saying: "the Messenger of God has cursed men who imitate women and women who imitate men."

In 2023, a lesson about obedience from a Grade 9 Islamic studies textbook teaching students that the wife must obey her husband was removed. The wife obeying her husband: [the Prophet] said "It is not lawful for a woman to observe an optional fast without the permission of her husband when he is at home. Nor should she allow anyone to enter his house without his permission."

In a chapter concerning the legal aspects of dress, students are no longer taught that adopting the appearance of people of other religions is prohibited – a subject added in 2021. The textbook still teaches that imitation of the opposite sex is prohibited, but it is no longer presented as a major sin. Furthermore, the idea that those who commit this sin will be cursed is not presented a straightforward fact, but is imparted upon students through an activity in which they are instructed to explain the meaning of “curse” in the context of this issue. The content about imitating non-Muslims appeared in 2019, was removed in 2020, has been reinserted in 2021, and was removed in the current 2023 textbook.

Prophet Muhammad said: “A woman may be married for four reasons: for her property, her rank, her beauty and her religion; so get the one who is religious and prosper.”

Prophet Muhammad said: “The best woman is the one who makes him happy when he looks at her, obeys him when he commands her, and she does not go against his wishes with regard to herself nor her wealth.”

Even though the 2023 edition omitted a direct question to the students about the “consequences of men wearing women’s clothes,” wearing clothing of the opposite sex, even as a form of humor or theater, is still prohibited. This is accompanied by the notion that “strength and roughness” are male traits, while “softness, kindness, and tenderness” are female traits, and wearing the clothes of the opposite sex habituates one to the traits of the other sex, leaving behind the characteristics of his/her gender.

A restrictive prohibition on women not stomping their feet, removed in 2021 after appearing in the 2020 edition, was reinstated in 2022 but toned down in 2023. According to an interpretation of a Qur'anic verse (24: 31) which is understood as a prohibition on women "not stomp their feet to make known what they conceal of their adornment," women were forbidden to stomp their feet in the presence of strangers, so as to prevent their anklets from drawing the attention of strangers to their legs. In 2023, the verse is explained as an encouragement aimed at protecting women and their chastity, without mentioning any potential temptation for men.

Altered:

In 2023, students are taught that Muslim women are to dress modestly in a way that does not show their body features, so as not to attract attention of others. In the 2022 edition, women were warned against attracting the attention of “strangers” but this was removed, as well as the prohibition that Muslim women cannot dress like men (the latter is nonetheless taught elsewhere in the textbook).

The Muslim woman's Dress:

Allah has prescribed for the Muslim woman to be modest in her dress in order to protect herself, maintain her honor, and preserve her humility. Therefore, a woman must observe the following in her dress:

1. Covers her body.
2. Should not be an adornment in itself, attracting the attention of strangers.
3. Should not be transparent.
4. Should be wide and conceal the size of body parts.
5. Should not resemble men's clothing.
6. Should not be perfumed.

The Muslim woman's Dress and beauty:

Women in their nature love adornments, and thus Islam protected this side of them, and they can adorn themselves with any type of permissible clothing and adornment. If a woman wants to get out of her house and mix with men without her male companion, she must make sure that her dress:

1. Covers her body.
2. Should not be tight or transparent.
3. Should not be an adornment in itself, attracting attention
4. Should not be perfumed

The 2022 edition of this example removed a sentence teaching that Allah will severely punish those who imitate the opposite sex. Nonetheless, students are presented with a hadith about Muhammad cursing men and women who imitate the opposite sex. The textbook expands upon the hadith and teaches that men and women cannot dress like the opposite sex, nor can they display the characteristics of the opposite sex, for they will become accustomed to this and abandon their innate character created by Allah: men cannot be feminine and “tender,” whereas women cannot be “rough” and “severe.” This is still taught in 2023.

If a woman becomes accustomed to imitating a man in dress, she will have abandoned her innate femininity, kindness, and tenderness.

-Exaggeration and excessive tenderness is not suitable for men.

Third grade Islamic Studies students are taught that, as Muslims, they should adhere to a specific, modest clothing etiquette. Students are told that a man must not resemble a woman in his attire, and vice versa. Notably, while this idea existed in 2021 and remains in 2022 and 2023, a removed passage from 2021 instructed students not to wear the clothing of non-Muslims. While the removal of the passage improved the lesson in the sense of tolerance and prejudice toward non-Muslims, it is still lacking in open-mindedness toward gender roles.

The Organization (of Islamic Cooperation) was established in Rabat, the Kingdom of Morocco, on 12 Rajab, 1389 AH (25 September, 1969) on the occasion of the first conference of leaders of the Islamic world, which was held in the Moroccan capital following the criminal arson that was perpetrated in the blessed Al-Aqsa Mosque on 8/6/1389 AH (21/8/1969) by Zionist actors in the occupied city of Jerusalem.

The leaders of the Islamic world who met in Rabat were able to establish their unity, form a consensus, and mobilize the necessary force to confront this blatant aggression. In that meeting, the Organization was established, with its charter containing a guarantee to use every means – political and military – to liberate Jerusalem from the Zionist Occupation.

Statements pertaining to the British "appointing a great number of Jews to high-ranking positions", "facilitating affairs for the Jews to organize themselves and train to use firearms," and "supporting the Jews economically and militarily" were removed. The 2022 edition also removed a statement that the first High Commissioner of Palestine, Herbert Samuel, was a Jew. In 2023, a picture of the White Mosque in Ramlah, featured in a chapter about the Umayyad dynasty, no longer mentions that it is located in Palestine. The city, located near Tel Aviv, was established in the 8th century during of the Umayyad era as the capital of Jund Filastin, the military district of Palestine, in the Bilad al-Sham province.

This follows an alteration made in the 2022 edition, in which an image of the Al-Aqsa Mosque described as being located “in the city of Jerusalem in Palestine” was removed.

لمحة موجزة عن تاريخ فلسطين:

ولما توفي (سليمان) تمزقت الدولة وضعفت وتسلطت عليهم الدول المجاورة، فقصوا عليهم وشتتوا شملهم. ولم يكن لليهود حكم مستقل في فلسطين سوى تسعين سنة هي عهد (داود) و(سليمان).

ولما جاءت الحروب الصليبية نحو بلاد الشام استولت على القدس. وفي عام ١١٨٧هـ/١١٨٧م انتصر المسلمون في معركة (حطين)، بقيادة صلاح الدين الأيوبي، ودخلوا القدس بعد ٩١ عاماً من الاحتلال الصليبي. ولقد سمح المسلمون لليهود أن يعيشوا في فلسطين مواطنين في ظل السيادة الإسلامية، وبقي الوضع كذلك في عهد جميع الدول الإسلامية حتى نهاية الحرب العالمية الأولى التي كانت الغلبة فيها للحلفاء ضد الأتراك وحلفائهم الألمان.

A Brief Overview of the History of Palestine:

Palestine has been an Arab land since the Semitic migrations from the Arabian Peninsula. The Canaanites dwelled there and lived there for more than 1,500 years, and they fully ruled it. That is why Palestine is referred to by archeologists as the Land of Canaan, after the Canaanites.

The Prophet of Allah Joshua, son of Nun, led the Children of Israel (the Jews) after the Prophet of Allah Moses, and brought them into Palestine. Then came the Prophet of Allah David, who triumphed against Goliath, King of the Canaanites, and after David's death, the Prophet of Allah Solomon took over.

When Solomon passed away, the State was torn apart, it became weak, and it was taken over by neighboring states, as this was followed by them rooting them out and scattering them all over. The Jews did not have independent rule in Palestine except for 90 years during the time of David and Solomon.

Following this, Palestine became subjected to Persian rule, then to the Greeks, the Arab Nabataeans, and the Romans. In the year 16H/637AD, the Islamic conquest arrived in Palestine during the reign of Caliph Umar bin Al-Khattab, as Jerusalem surrendered, and Palestine returned to being Arab and Islamic from that point on until this day.

When the Crusades arrived in the Levant, they took over Jerusalem. In the year 583H/1187AD, the Muslims won the Battle of Hattin, led by Saladin, and they entered Jerusalem after 91 years of Crusader occupation. The Muslims allowed the Jews to live in Palestine as citizens under Islamic sovereignty, a situation that remained so during the reign of all the Muslim states until the end of WWI, in which the Allies prevailed against the Turks and their German allies.

Altered:

This 2022 edition of the high school social studies textbook somewhat toned down the terminology used to refer to Israel, replacing references to the country as “the Zionist enemy” with “the Israeli occupation army.” The textbook also removed references to Israel as “the Israeli enemy,” replacing them with “the Israeli occupation,” and the term “the Zionists” was replaced with “the Israelis,” or “the Israeli occupation army.” These changes, which were made throughout the textbook, partially reduce the animosity and non-recognition of Israel expressed elsewhere in the textbook. It should be noted, however, that the new textbook uses the terms “the Israeli occupation army” and “Israeli occupiers” in the context of the 1948 War, implicitly delegitimizing the existence of the State of Israel. This was not changed in 2023.

2021 Edition, pp. 34-37:

The below example depicts Zionists prior to the establishment of Israel as cunning and devious. Students are taught that Haim Weizmann, a prominent Zionist leader and future President of the State of Israel, tried to bribe King Ibn Saud to “abandon the issue of Palestine,” and not be “a major obstacle to the Zionist movement’s ambitions.” The textbook describes Ibn Saud’s response, who considered Weizmann’s “criminal audacity” as despicable and vile.

What are the contents of this letter?

As a result of King Abdulaziz’s strong position during the beginning of the Second World War, Haim Weizmann, head of the World Zionist Organization, sent a request through one of the Europeans to King Abdulaziz, to abandon the issue of Palestine in exchange for a large sum of money, because he and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia constitute a major obstacle to the Zionist movement’s ambitions.

What was King Abdulaziz’s response?

King Abdulaziz’s response arrived: There is personal hostility between me and Weizmann, because he had the criminal audacity to offer me despicable payment for me to be a traitor to my religion and my country. Is there any greater vileness or meanness than this?!

Fortresses and Citadels:

Muslims were devoted to building citadels and fortresses in order to protect the borders of the State – small, fortified cities that include places of residence, public facilities, water, and markets. Among the most famous of these are the Citadel of Aleppo in Syria, the Citadel of Saladin in Cairo, Krak des Chevaliers in Homs, Syria, the Citadel of Acre in Palestine, and the Ajloun Castle in Jordan.

In a lesson about the second caliph Umar bin Al-Khattab, the Persian Zoroastrians were mentioned as those who conspired to murder him while he was praying, due to him spreading Islam in their country. In 2023, the problematic elements have been removed, omitting the accusation of a Zoroastrian conspiracy to murder Umar due to his successful campaigns in the Iranian region. Rather, the Zoroastrian descent of Umar's assassin now seems mainly anecdotal and far less conspicuous.

A critical thinking textbook no longer teaches morality and decision-making through a story implicitly criticizing Western values. An example was removed from the textbook recounting the story of Saudi trainee pilot who, upon realizing that the plane was about to crash, decided against the judgment of his American instructor (who ejected himself from the plane) and crashed the plane into the sea instead of a populated area, thereby saving many lives. While the text demonstrates the positive outcome of the Saudi trainee who sacrificed his life, it nonetheless contains the negative implication of the American instructor's decision based on an incorrect, foreign set of values. The story was removed in the 2023 edition of the textbook.

In the Critical Thinking textbook, several texts are dedicated to presenting the Muslim Brotherhood as terrorists errant in their behavior. For instance, they are accused of harming the internal unity of the Muslim community, attempting to take over the rule of the state, having no interest in promoting Islamic values, and seducing children to join their organization, exploiting them for their nefarious ideals.

Anything that affects unity in respect of Muslim rulers, such as spreading doubts and [wrong] ideas, or establishing groups that require a pledge of allegiance [to their leader], loyalty or promise to [maintain] propaganda and order, or anything of the sort, is forbidden according to the Qur'an and the way of the Prophet. التحذير من الجماعات المنحرفة

على المسلم أن يتمسك بالكتاب والسنة منهجاً وسلوكاً. ويحذر من مخالفتها بالزيادة أو النقصان. وقد بينت هيئة كبار العلماء في المملكة العربية السعودية أن كل ما يؤثر على وحدة الصف واللمعة الوطنية، واجتماع الكلمة حول ولي الأمر، ويث الشبه والأفكار وتأسيس الجماعات والتنظيمات والطوائف والأحزاب يعدّ محرماً بدلالة الكتاب والسنة.

ومن تلك الطوائف والأحزاب الإرهابية، الحزب المسمّى بحزب الله، وتنظيم القاعدة، وتنظيم داعش، وجماعة التبليغ، وغيرها من الأحزاب والطوائف التي تبحث عن تقرييق المجتمعات والتحريض عليها، واستغلال الدين لمصالحها؛ والتي حذرت منها وزارة الداخلية وبيّنت عداها وكرها للمملكة العربية السعودية.

Warning Against Deviant Groups

A Muslim must adhere to the Book and the Sunnah methodically and behaviorally, as he is warned against contradicting them by adding or subtracting. The Council of Senior Scholars in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has clarified that anything that affects the unity, national cohesion, the consensus around the ruler, the spreading of similarities and ideas, and the establishment of groups, organizations, sects, and parties is considered forbidden according to the Book and Sunnah.

Those terrorist sects and parties include the party called Hezbollah, Al-Qaeda, ISIS, the Tablighi Jamaat, and other parties and sects that seek to divide societies, incite them, and exploit religion for their interests. This is what the Ministry of Interior warned against and clarified their hostility and hatred for the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Those deviant groups also include the group that calls itself the Muslim Brotherhood; a statement issued by the Council of Senior Scholars in the Kingdom warned against this group in particular, as well as other deviant groups that do not represent the approach of Islam, but rather follow their partisan goals that contradict the guidance of our true religion, hiding from religion and practicing what contradicts it in terms of dividing, inciting against safe societies, and stirring up sedition, violence, and terrorism.

At the forefront of these groups that we warn against is the Muslim Brotherhood, for it is a deviant group based on arguing with rulers, rebelling against leaders, stirring up strife in countries, destabilizing coexistence in the unified nation, and describing Islamic societies as ignorant. Since its establishment, this group has not shown any interest in the Islamic faith, nor in the lore of the Book and the Sunnah, but its goal is to seize leadership. Therefore, the history of this group has been full of evils and temptations, as it gave birth to extremist terrorist groups that wreaked havoc in the country and among the people, as known and evident in crimes of violence and terrorism around the world.

A section on the oath of allegiance to the ruler (bay'a) accuses separatist sects and “errant parties and groups” (“internationalist groups” in 2021) of promoting harmful ideas on this oath of allegiance, and its impact on the homeland’s political affairs. It is worth noting that in a later chapter in the textbook, these parties and groups are further discussed, as they include the Muslim Brotherhood, al-Qaeda, ISIS, Hezbollah, Al-Jihad Al-Islami, Ansar-Allah (the Houthis) and Al-Sururiya (dubbed a Khawarij group).

Since 2022, the textbook no longer criticizes the Shi’i perceptions of governance (the preeminent authority of the Hidden Imam over the Islamic community); and Western democratic systems of governance, including holding elections. However, the textbook still specifically identifies the so-called “secret guide” [of the Muslim Brotherhood (allegedly the true leader who clandestinely controls the operations of the organization and instructs the general guide)] as a wrong perception of allegiance.

While the 2021 edition construed the three as un-Islamic forms of governance, which stem from foreign propagators of “political Islam,” the 2022 edition now only generally labels the one as “contrary to the correct approach.”

The importance of implementing critical thinking is described as crucial to strengthening ties between the Saudi individual and his religious and national responsibilities, as well as preventing extremist and detrimental thinking. The text considers as terrorist groups “the Muslim Brotherhood and their followers, or those who agree with them, for instance the Sururiyun [a Saudi salafist movement], al-Qaeda, al-Jihad, al-Takfir wa-l-Hijra.”

إن مهارات التفكير الناقد تساعد في التخلص من الاتجاه المتعصب حيث إن هذه المهارات تشمل: القدرة على إعمال العقل والفكر، والفصل بين مشاعر الفرد تجاه الموقف، والمعلومات المتوافرة عنه، وتجنب إصدار الأحكام الفورية المعتمدة على تصورات الآخرين دون تمحيص، والرغبة في ربط المقدمات بالنتائج، والميل إلى إدراك العلاقات بين الأشياء في إطارها الصحيح. هذه المهارات تُجنب الفرد أن يكون متطرفاً متعصباً. إن تنمية التفكير الناقد تجعله مضاداً، ومثبطاً للتفكير المتطرف، أو المتعصب بشكل فعال؛ بل إنها تدفعه إلى الالتزام بمسؤولياته الوطنية والدينية. إن مهارات التفكير الناقد تجعل المواطن يرفض الفكر الضال والتيارات والجماعات الإرهابية ويكشف الانحرافات العقائدية والفكرية للجماعات المتطرفة مثل جماعة الإخوان المسلمين الإرهابية واتباعهم أو من يتفقون معهم، مثل: السروريون والقاعدة والجهاد والتكفير والهجرة وغيرهم.

The skills of critical thinking assist in doing away with the line of bigotry, as they include: the ability to implement reason and thought; distinguishing between one's feelings toward a situation and the extant information about it; refraining from passing quick judgment based on other views and without scrutiny; the will to connect premises and conclusions; inclining to understand relations between things in proper context. These skills prevent the individual from becoming an extremist and a bigot, for the application of critical thinking effectively renders him opposite and impervious to extreme or generally bigoted thought. Moreover, [critical thinking] pushes him closer to his national and religious obligations. Critical thinking skills causes the citizen to reject erroneous thought and terrorist movements and groups, and to discover the dogmatic and intellectual perversions of extremist groups, such as the terrorist Muslim Brotherhood and their followers, or those who agree with them, for instance the Sururiyun [a Saudi salafist movement], al-Qaeda, al-Jihad, al-Takfir wa-l-Hijra.

A high school social studies textbook teaches about Saudi Arabia's role in fighting terrorism. The section, titled "the war against terrorism", describes Islam as a religion of love and tolerance and denounces terrorism and extremism. The section explains that Saudi Arabia has suffered from acts of terrorism, including suicide attacks that led to the killing of innocent people, and explicitly condemns such acts according to the principles of Islam. The section also focuses on manifestations of Islamic extremism (the ghulat and the Kharijites who assassinated the third and fourth caliphs 'Uthman ibn 'Affan and 'Ali ibn Abi Talib) in early medieval history, as well as the Saudi Arabia's role in establishing the Islamic Military Alliance (which has 41 member states) to fight terrorism in 2015.

الحرب على الإرهاب:

الإسلام دين الوسطية، فلا غلوٌ يقود إلى التطرف، ولا تفريطٌ يقود إلى الانحلال، قال الله تعالى:

﴿وَكَذَلِكَ جَعَلْنَاكُمْ أُمَّةً وَسَطًا لِتَكُونُوا شُهَدَاءَ عَلَى النَّاسِ وَيَكُونَ الرَّسُولُ عَلَيْكُمْ شَهِيدًا﴾ [البقرة 143].

وكان نبينا محمد ﷺ يدعو إلى الاعتدال في العبادة والفكر، فعن أنس بن مالك رضي الله عنه قال: دخل النبي ﷺ فإذا حبل ممدود بين الساريتين، فقال: «ما هذا الحبل؟» قالوا: هذا حبل زينب، فإذا فترت تعلقت فيه، فقال النبي ﷺ: «لا، خلوه، ليصل أحدكم نشاطه، فإذا فتر فليقعد» رواه البخاري.

وعلى مر التاريخ الإسلامي ظهر أقوام غلاة، منهم الخوارج في خلافة عثمان بن عفان رضي الله عنه، ووصل بهم الغلو إلى قتل خليفة المسلمين عثمان، ثم الخليفة علي بن أبي طالب رضي الله عنه.

وفي تاريخنا المعاصر، ظهرت جماعات وفرق غالت في فكرها وتطرفت في أعمالها، فأقدمت على أفعال جلبت كوارث وويلات. وعلى إثر ما يصيب بعض البلدان الإسلامية من غزو وتشريد، يظهر متطرفون يدعون نصرة الإسلام والمسلمين، فيقدمون على قتل أنفسهم وقتل آخرين من مسلمين ومستأمنين وأبرياء.

والمملكة العربية السعودية مثل غيرها من الدول التي عانت إرهاب المتطرفين، حيث الذين أقدموا على عمليات تفجير وتدمير وقتل أبرياء، ولم تكن تنفع فيهم نداءات العقل وأصوات الحكمة.

وسارعت المملكة إلى الوقوف مع دول العالم المختلفة للتصدي لهذه الآفة، ومحاربتها بكل الوسائل الممكنة، وبيان أن الإسلام بريء من هذه الأعمال، وأنه دين المحبة والسلام، ولكنه التطرف الذي يقود صاحبه إلى أعمال ترفضها الأديان، وتبشّر منها العقول، هذا التطرف والغلو الذي لم يسلم منه دين ولا عقيدة.

The war against terrorism

Islam is the religion of wasatiyya [middle way; moderation] - not of exaggeration which leads to extremism and not of negligence which leads to decay, as God Almighty said: "Thus We appointed you a midmost nation that you might be witnesses to the people, and that the Messenger might be a witness to you".

Our Prophet Muhammad called for moderation in worship and in ideology [...]

Throughout Islamic history, groups of extremists appeared, like the Kharijites during Uthman' ibn Affan's rule as caliph, whose extremism led them to kill the caliph Uthman and then the Caliph Ali ibn Abi Talib.

In our contemporary history, groups and factions with extreme ideologies and practices have appeared, performing deeds that resulted in disasters and calamities. In the wake of the wars and displacement that some Islamic countries have seen, extremists have appeared, purporting to elevate Islam and the Muslims. But they brought about suicide and the murder of Muslims, asylum seekers, and innocents.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, like other countries who suffered from the terrorism of extremists, saw how they carried out bombings, destruction, and the killing of innocents [...].

The kingdom hastened to stand by different countries to face and fight this disease by every means possible, and declare that Islam is free from these [terrorist] acts, and that it is a religion of love and peace [...]

A high school history textbook presents Saudi foreign policy, and particularly the policies of King Salman, as one that preserves stability in the region— which includes containing terrorism and radicalism. This position is given as justification for the controversial Saudi intervention in Yemen's civil war, the Houthis reportedly being supported by Iran; it can also be seen as an attempt to counterbalance the equally controversial Iranian infiltration of that Arab country.

The Political Level:

Foreign policy during King Salman ibn Abd al-Aziz's rule became active and influential, the result of its status, capabilities and origins [Saudi Arabia]. The Saudi stance followed the direction to maintain legitimacy in Yemen, fighting terrorism and extremism, and supporting international efforts to strengthen stability in the Arab region.

Recent editions of the textbook (2021-2023) describe the Ottomans as the enemies of the Saudi state. Maintaining this message, since 2022 textbooks systematically describe the Ottomans as “aggressors” (mu’tadī), instead of the term “ghazi”, which can be understood both in the negative sense of invaders, but also in a positive Islamic sense as someone engaged in holy war. This change was probably intended to prevent this ambiguity, thereby removing any trace of Islamic legitimacy from the Ottomans, and in turn increasing that of the Saudis who fought them. While explicit criticism against modern Turkey was not identified, the overall negative portrayal of the Ottomans as “aggressors” may potentially extend to modern Turkey. Notably, the aggression of the Ottomans is demonstrated in the text, relating how they fired cannons at the holy land of Medina during the Battle of Medina in 1227AH/1812AD. The Ottomans continued to fire their cannons even after a ceasefire had been called, resulting in more fatalities.

A Grade 6 social studies textbook contains graphic illustrations of battles that ensued between the Saudis and the Ottomans. The Saudis generally wear green uniforms (green is widely recognized as a symbol of Islam), as opposed to the red Ottomans. The illustrations in 2019 contained graphic imagery of explosions, firing guns and canons towards soldiers and horses, and setting them on fire. However, since 2020, the illustrations visualizing the battle and the violence were removed or made smaller. Nonetheless, in the texts that the illustrations accompany as early as 2019, the Ottomans are demonized and portrayed as cruel invaders and occupiers who perpetrate bloodshed, torture, and merciless killing.

The alliance of the Saud family with Wahhabism stands at the core of Saudi Arabia's religious and political legitimacy. Yet, the designation of Saudi Arabia as a "Wahhabi state" is seen here as a distortion and denigration—a propaganda ploy by the Ottomans. In the 2022 version, it is added that the Ottomans' ploy was motivated by their dislike of the perceived lofty status of the first Saudi state in the Arab and Islamic world, which is owing to the fact that they brought stability and prosperity to the Arabian Peninsula, security to the pilgrimage routes, and took care of the Two Holy Mosques.

In a chapter on the pledge of allegiance to the Muslim ruler, students learn that it is a sin to incite and rebel against the Saudi ruler, or to insult him. Instigating verbal, written, or armed challenges against him is strictly forbidden, as it encourages people to disobey or attack him. The passage also states that all must obey him in “pleasant and unpleasant situations, in times of hardship and ease.”

The 2021 edition taught that rebellion is forbidden even if the ruler does something non-permissible, a statement which was not reiterated in the 2022 and 2023 editions.

حكم البيعة الشرعية لولي الأمر:

وولي الأمر في المملكة العربية السعودية هو خادم الحرمين الشريفين - حفظه الله -، وهو ولي الأمر الشرعي، وولايته شاملة لجميع من في المملكة، ويجب على الجميع السمع والطاعة له في المنشط والمكروه والعسر واليسر.

3- عدم الخروج عليه:

إذا بويع ولي الأمر وجبت طاعته وحرمت كل منازعة له، سواء أكانت المنازعة بالكلام أو الكتابة أو بالسلاح، أو بالسعي في تنفير الناس عن طاعته، أو بالتطاول عليه، كما دلت النصوص الشرعية على ذلك، فعن عوف بن مالك رضي الله عنه، قال: قال رسول الله ﷺ: «أَلَا مَنْ وَتَّى عَلَيْهِ وَالْإِهْرَامَ يَأْتِي شَيْئًا مِنْ مَعْصِيَةِ اللَّهِ فَلْيَكْرِهْ مَا يَأْتِي مِنْ مَعْصِيَةِ اللَّهِ وَلَا يَنْزِعَنَّ يَدًا مِنْ مَنَاعَةٍ»⁽¹⁾. وهو ما دأب عليه السلف في تحريم الخروج على ولي الأمر في أبواب العقائد وهو أصل من أصول عقيدتهم.

The rule of legal allegiance to the ruler

God has made it obligatory, according to the Qur'an and the Sunna of the Prophet, to pledge allegiance to the Muslim ruler, who bears the responsibility of governance in pleasant and unpleasant situations, and in times of hardship and ease. [...] This is affirmed in the hadith [...] “whoever dies without having given an oath of allegiance [to the ruler] has died a death of the Jahiliyya”. This hadith indicates [...] the prohibition to rebel against rulers.

[Concerning the laws concerning the ruler]

3 - The prohibition to rebel against him:

Once a ruler has received the pledge of allegiance, it is incumbent to obey him, and any challenge against him is forbidden, be it verbally, in writing, or in arms, or by inciting people to disobey or attack him [...]

In a lesson on the remit of national security services, a Grade 7 social studies textbook explains that Saudi Arabia calls for moderation in worship, sayings, and actions, in order to protect against the dangers of extremism, terrorism, fanaticism, atheism, and challenges to Islam. While the text acknowledges the importance of tackling extremist behavior, it also warns students against the dangers of atheism, and any challenge to Islam.

Protection of Thought:

That is the protection of human thought, intellect, and understanding from deviation and rebellion against the middle way, and moderation in terms of faith, politics and Being. [It is also] the protection of [man] from extremism, exaggeration, atheism, challenging Islam or the Qur'an or the prophetic Hadith, or the persona of the Prophet.

The state has taken means to verify the protection of thought, including:

1. Creating programs to fight errant and deviant thought that destabilizes security.
2. Sending religious scholars to advise those who harbor this thought.
3. Propagating the moderate way in acts of worship, sayings, and deeds, which is a divine Islamic plan.

A lesson on the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) emphasizes the unity between residents of the GCC countries in terms of religion, origin, language, history, traditions and customs, and economic activity.

Shared Features:

The residents of the GCC countries enjoy shared features that have added to their unity and made them one nation. Among the most important of these features are:

- 1- Their religion is one, which is Islam. This is one of the most prominent features.
- 2- They have one origin: they belong to Arab tribes that originate from the Arabian Peninsula.
- 3- Their language is one, which is the Arabic language.
- 4- Their countries are neighbors and overlook the Arabian Gulf.
- 5- They share a common history.
- 6- Their traditions and customs are close to each other.
- 7- Their economic activity – both in the past and present – is similar.

Examples of the GCC's Achievements:

Political Achievements:

- Fulfillment of Arab and Islamic solidarity.
- Permanent support for the Palestinian issue, in all international forums.
- Support of Iraq and Yemen's unity, stability, and sovereignty.

Military and Security Achievements:

- Establishment of a unified military force for quick intervention, called "The Peninsula Shield Force."

The Ottomans are portrayed as the Saudi state's most prominent enemy, who while trying to eliminate the Saudi state neglected their protection of holy sites, resulting in the theft of valuable items that have religious significance, such as the Ka'ba's Black Stone.

The Ottoman state is considered to be among the most prominent enemies of the first Saudi state. It has worked and made every effort to eliminate [the Saudi state] from the moment it annexed the Hijaz and committed itself to the honor of performing the service [khidma sahiha] of the Two Holy Mosques properly. The Ottoman state therefore neglected the Two Holy Mosques and was unable to achieve security in the Holy Land. Moreover, the Two Holy Mosques were exposed to several incidents, including the theft of a piece of the Black Stone and some belongings of the Prophet's Chamber.

An enrichment section teaches students that the “Arab Gulf” is the only correct appellation for the body of water east of Saudi Arabia, and that referring to it as the “Persian Gulf” can only be the result of “some countries trying to spread” this nomenclature, because it contains an “anti-Arab bias.” Thus, rather than understanding that different nations may have different names for locations, students are led to believe that there is a conspiracy - implicitly driven to serve Iran - to disown the Arabs from the Gulf.

Ancient sources refer to the Arabian Gulf by many names [...] The Greek [sic] historian, Pliny [the Elder] called it the Gulf of Arabs, which constitutes its earliest documented name in history books. Some countries try to spread the name “Persian Gulf”, since this name is common in recent Western sources. Yet, this designation is recent and incorrect; it is inapplicable for a gulf surrounded by Arabs from the western side - in the form of the states of the Arabian Gulf - and from the eastern side, inhabited as it was by many Arab tribes. It also does not occur in historical nomenclature; rather, it contains an anti-Arab bias.

In a chapter on the fourth Caliph Ali Ibn Abi Talib, Islamic extremists are condemned. Although the chapter addresses a historic sect in a general manner, it compares the extremist sect of Kharijites who killed Ali to "the Kharijites of the present," implicitly Islamic extremists. The textbook teaches that both Kharijites and Islamic extremists rebelled against rulers, killed Muslims, declared Muslim scholars as infidels, and created chaos in the Islamic world. Students are then asked to compare modern terrorism perpetrated by Islamists to the actions of the Kharijites. The textbook therefore condemns Islamic extremists, using an infamous historic sect as a comparison, and teaches that rebellion against rulers (implicitly including Saudi rulers) is forbidden and leads to chaos.

يتميز عصرنا الحالي بالانفجار المعرفي والانفتاح غير المسبوق بين الدول والمجتمعات البشرية. وعلى الرغم من الفوائد والمكاسب التي ترتبت على هذا الانفتاح إلا أنه صاحبه الكثير من المغالطات والإشكالات والمزايدات بسبب الثورة الإعلامية والرقمية وانفتاح وسائلها وأدواتها؛ إذ أصبحت وسيلة قد يستغلها أعداء الوطن في بث السموم من خلال رسائل مزيفة وقيم «غير ملائمة»، فكلما انخفض مستوى وعي الفرد كان التأثير فيه أسهل وأعمق. وهذا يتطلب اليقظة تجاه مثل هذه المحاولات المغرضة وحسن التعامل وإعمال العقل فيما تحمله من ادعاءات ومزايدات باطلة ومزيفة؛ وذلك برفضها وتجاوزها ومراعاة أن الأفكار السلبية المنتشرة التي يتداولها بعضهم في مواقع التواصل الاجتماعي وغيرها إنما هي آراء مضللة ليست لها أدلة تثبتها، بل إن بعضها آراء أو دسائس وادعاءات مزيفة تُصنع في مؤسسات أمنية أجنبية معادية للمملكة؛ لذا ينبغي علينا الوعي التام مع التمييز بدقة وحرص بين الرأي والحقيقة بطرح الأسئلة التأملية التالية:

Staying Away from Exaggeration and Fighting Extremism or Dissolving into the Cultures of Others:

Organizing [one's] thinking is part of firmly establishing society's values, which are built on tolerance, respect for the Other, and creative cooperation for the sake of building the future. In addition, the skills of thinking allow the individual to use his mind to face the changes that are happening in the world, in a variety of fields, and immunize himself against corrupt ideas. This especially applies to the openness of the media, as the borders have vanished, and the process of acculturation has gone beyond countries and nations. This requires fortifying the national identity, and thus it becomes necessary to develop an alert, free, and discerning mind, as well as choosing what suits it and what suits the public interest, without confining oneself or dissolving into the cultures of others.

Our current time is characterized by an explosion of knowledge and an unprecedented openness between countries and human societies. Despite the benefits and advantages that come with this openness, it is also accompanied by many deceptions, problems, and excessive slogans. This is due to the media and digital revolution, and due to the openness of its means and tools, as it has become a tool the enemies of the homeland might exploit to spread poison through fake messages and inappropriate values, because the lower the level of the individual's awareness, the easier it is to influence him more deeply. This requires being vigilant of such malicious attempts and improving the ability to treat and use our mind when it comes to false arguments and excessive slogans it carries. That is, by rejecting and overcoming them, as well as by noticing that the negative ideas that are being spread, some of which are common on social media, are actually deceptive opinions that have no evidence to back them up. Furthermore, some of them are opinions, plots, and claims created by foreign security institutions that are hostile towards the Kingdom. Therefore, we need to be fully aware and know how to accurately and carefully distinguish between opinions and truth, by raising the following reflective questions:

In a high school Islamic Studies textbook, a chapter on the dangers of terrorist thought compared atheist ideology to religious extremist terror groups, including, for instance, the Muslim Brotherhood, al-Qaeda, ISIS, Hezbollah, Al-Jihad Al-Islami, Ansar-Allah (the Houthis) and Al-Sururiya (dubbed a Khawarij group). Moreover, homosexuality, which is described as a "sexual perversion," and atheism are associated with the immoral conduct of non-religious groups, whom the textbook equates on the same level as terror organizations. The textbook features moral disintegration and promiscuity as one of the dangers of seemingly non-religious "errant" groups. Notably, on the following page, a relevant saying by King Salman ibn 'Abd al-Aziz is also featured, in which he juxtaposed religious extremists with "moral disintegrators." The textbook furthermore instructs students to answer the question as to why the government has refused to "legalize homosexuality and sexual perversions."

There are two kinds of errant parties and groups:

1. The first kind - purportedly religious but in fact are the opposite.
2. The second kind- purportedly non-religious, laboring under the guise of "liberty," but concealing atheism and disintegration of safeguarded values and morals.

Examples [of the first kind]: The Muslim Brotherhood, al-Qaeda, ISIS, Jabhat al-Nusra, Hezbollah, the Houthis, the Sururiyya.

A high school Islamic Studies textbook lays out the inherent dangers of “errant” groups, which in this context includes both religious terrorist factions and atheists. Specifically, however, the textbook blames the [radical Islamic] “errant” groups in perpetrating “armed rebellion, mayhem, loss of security, expelling Muslims from their lands, and appointing enemies as rulers over them” mainly in the context of the “so-called” Arab Spring revolutions. The text further blames these groups for the negative consequences of the revolutions. As such, the textbook delegitimizes the Arab Spring movements, implying that despite the participation of many non-religious (and certainly non-terrorist) factions, they were set in motion by terror organizations.

Similarly, the second text blames these [radical Islamic] errant movements for inciting to [organize] “strikes, protests, gatherings and collective statements.”

6- الخروج المسلح وحصول الفوضى، وفقد الأمن، وتشريد المسلمين عن بلدانهم، وتسليط الأعداء عليها، كما حصل في ثورات ما يُسمى بالربيع العربي، والتي كان لهذه الأحزاب والجماعات الضالة أثر كبير في إشعالها، وما حدث من قتل ودمار وخسائر في الأرواح وفي مجهودات التنمية؛ نتيجة لإشعالهم نار الفتنة وتعاونهم مع أعداء أوطانهم في الخارج.

[Among the inherent dangers of terrorist organizations:]

6 - Armed rebellion, mayhem, loss of security, expelling Muslims from their lands, and appointing enemies as rulers over them, similar to what occurred in the so-called Arab Spring revolutions. These errant [terrorist] groups and parties played a great part in inciting them. The ensuing killings and destruction, and the loss of lives and of development efforts, [all] resulted from them igniting the flames of riot and cooperating with their homelands’ enemies abroad. (p. 107)

5- التحريض: على الاعتصامات، أو التظاهرات، أو التجمعات، أو البيانات الجماعية.

5 - Inciting to [organize] strikes, protests, gatherings and collective statements. (p. 103)

A newly introduced Applications of Law textbook dedicates a lesson to counter-terrorism laws. The lesson teaches about Saudi laws prescribing long prison terms for members of terror organizations, and for people who finance their activities. Students are then given case studies of people supporting terror organizations, and are asked to identify the crimes committed by them and the punishments prescribed by Saudi law.

Students are also taught a short passage about the Islamic Military Counter Terrorism Coalition, a military alliance between 41 Muslim countries initiated by Saudi Arabia. According to the passage, the coalition cooperates to fight terrorism both militarily and by fighting the ideology of terrorist organizations, and promoting “the tolerant Islamic principles and values”.

A lesson in a grade 6 Islamic studies textbook is dedicated to the Prophet Muhammad's positive treatment of non-Muslims, and teaches students to act kindly toward them. The lesson teaches that Muhammad did not wish to harm non-Muslims even when they fought him; he respected his pacts with them and acted kindly toward them. A few hadiths are offered as examples for this positive treatment: students are taught that they should treat non-Muslims kindly, as Muhammad did. However, the textbook also teaches them to pray for non-Muslims to receive "guidance," implicitly toward Islam; this carries on the one hand a non-violent message, but on the other, implies that other religions are false religions.

A hadith was previously removed from the chapter about a group of Jews who cursed Muhammad, to which he responds with tolerance. Another hadith which taught that Muhammad visited a Jewish boy on his deathbed, advising him to convert to Islam to avoid being punished in Hell, was previously shortened, removing the problematic message, and has now entirely been removed.¹⁸

The prophet's manner in treating non-Muslims

He forgave them although he was able to [harm] them.

وفاؤه بالعهود والمواثيق معهم

عن حذيفة بن اليمان رضي الله عنه قال: ما منعني أن أشهد بدرا إلا أنني خرجت أنا وأبي حُسَيْلٌ، قال: فأخذنا كفار قريش قالوا: إنكم تريدون محمداً؟ فقلنا: ما نريده، ما نريد إلا المدينة فأخذوا مِنَّا عَهْدَ اللَّهِ وميثاقَهُ لننصرفن إلى المدينة ولا نقاتل معه، فأتينا رسول الله صلى الله عليه وسلم فأخبرناه الخبر فقال: «انصرفا نَفِ لهم بعهدِهِم ونستعين الله عليهم»^(٢).

He kept his pacts and agreements with them.

الإحسان إليهم والدعاء لهم بالهداية

عن أبي هريرة رضي الله عنه قال: قدم طفيل بن عمرو الدوسي وأصحابه رضي الله عنهم على النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم فقالوا: يا رسول الله إن دوسا عصت وأبت فادع الله عليها، فقيل هلكت دوس، قال: «اللهم اهد دوسا وأت بهم»^(١).
وعن جابر رضي الله عنه قال: قالوا: يا رسول الله أحرقتنا نبال ثقيف، فادع الله عليهم، قال: «اللهم اهد ثقيفا»^(٢).

الحلم على أذاهم

عن ابن مسعود رضي الله عنه قال: كَانَتِي أَنْظُرُ إِلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ صلى الله عليه وسلم يَخْكِي نَبِيًّا مِنَ الْأَنْبِيَاءِ حَرْبُهُ قَوْمَهُ فَأَذْمُوهُ، فَجَعَلَ يَمْسَحُ الدَّمَ عَنْ وَجْهِهِ، وَيَقُولُ: «اللَّهُمَّ اغْفِرْ لِقَوْمِي فَإِنَّهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ»^(٣).

Treating them well and praying for them that they receive [divine] guidance.

Narrated Abu Huraira:

Tufail bin `Amr came to Allah's Messenger and said, "O Allah's Messenger! [The tribe of] Daws has disobeyed and refused [to embrace Islam], therefore, invoke Allah's wrath for them.", and the people said: "[The tribe of] Daws are destroyed". He said, "O Allah! Guide the [tribe of] Daws and let them come to us."

...

Refraining from harming them

Ibn Mas'ud reported: "I can still recall as if I am seeing the Messenger of Allah resembling one of the Prophets whose people scourged him and shed his blood, while he wiped blood from his face, he said: "O Allah! Forgive my people, because they certainly do not know."

We learn to implement:

- I will treat non-Muslims well.
- I will be sincere when I talk to and make promises to non-Muslims.
- I will pray for the non-Muslim that he will receive [divine] guidance, and I will not mock anyone.

In a Grade 11 hadith textbook, the promotion of peace among all factions of society is presented as vital for social coherence. A poster presents various contracts that Muhammad and the Muslims made with Jews, Christians, and Arab tribes as examples of peace-making. Interestingly, the agreement following the Muslims' military expedition to the Jewish fortress in Khaybar is mentioned as an example of promoting peace, despite the fact that the expedition included laying siege to the fortress and forcing the Jews to surrender. As such, not only are pacts with Jews, Christians and Arabs portrayed in a positive light, they furthermore gain religious legitimacy and an exemplary status.

Students learn that freedom of speech, including the freedom to criticize, constitutes “one of the priorities... of shariah.” The lesson clarifies that freedom of speech does not grant one the freedom to slander, nor to propagate hate speech and incitement. Freedom of speech and criticism is one of the priorities of our tolerant Islamic shariah. Its rulings and intentions are derived from this freedom, within the framework of integrity, national responsibility, and self-accountability, as well as the rights of others, as Allah Almighty observes over words and deeds. Practicing criticism and free speech necessitate personal and public obligations and responsibilities, as well as fundamental conditions to ensure the protection of national security and public order, respect for others' rights or reputation, or public decency. Therefore, freedom of speech is not absolute, and it has limits, including:

1. It cannot harm the principles and rulings of the tolerant Islamic shariah.
2. It cannot harm our rulers, may Allah protect them, our wise leaders, may Allah support them, and the motherland, its symbols, and its history.
3. It cannot harm the institutions of the State, its public policies, and decisions.
4. It cannot incite hatred on a religious or sectarian basis, or racial and regional discrimination in all its forms.
5. It cannot attack people or public institutions by means of slander, insult, vilification, or defamation.

When teaching a hadith about kindness, students are taught to treat foreign workers in the country with kindness, since most of them came to the country to provide for their families.

• الرفق في التعامل مع العمالة والأجراء؛ فهؤلاء وإن كانوا من عموم الناس، إلا أن الرفق بهم مؤكد؛ لأن كثيراً منهم ما دفعهم إلى التغرّب عن بلدانهم وأسْرهم إلا ما يعانونه من ضيق الحال والحاجة إلى توفير لقمة العيش لأهليهم، فالواجب على من كان تحت يده عمالة أو أجراء أن يرفق بهم فيما يُكلّفهم به من أعمال، فلا يُكلّفهم من الأعمال ما لا يطيقون، وعليه أن يحتمل منهم الزلة والهبوة، وأن لا يبخسهم حقهم في مرتباتهم ولا يؤخرها عن مواعيد استحقاقها، وأن يكون معهم حسن الخلق، ويعاملهم بالذي يُحب أن يُعامل به.

Kindness when dealing with workers and employees: while they are of low status, it is nevertheless emphasized, because many among them have migrated from their countries and families due to the hardships they suffer from and the need to provide for their families; therefore it is incumbent upon those employing workers or employees to treat them with kindness in their works, and not task them with unbearable assignments [...]

In a grade 8 Life and Family Skills textbook, students learn that one characteristic of “the perfect personality” is applying Islamic ethics to the treatment of others, “including non-Muslims,” so that they see “the beautiful image of Islam.” Other characteristics include speaking to others with respect and appreciation and forgiving others’ mistakes.

The Perfect Personality

3- Talking to others with respect and appreciation, each according to their age and status, while looking at the person who is speaking, so he feels important.

5- Showing tolerance and forgiveness to a person who is wrong. The Almighty said: “and pardon others. And Allah loves the good-doers.” (Ali Imran, 134).

7- Relying on Islamic ethics when dealing with everyone, including non-Muslims, so that the beautiful image of Islam is reflected on them.

Altered:

In a social studies textbook, students are taught that calm and peaceful conversation is intrinsic to Islamic culture. The text calls to avoid any "bigotry and conflicts" during conversations, inserting Qur'anic verses that justify having discourse with one another. In 2023, the image was replaced with another featuring a meeting of men and women (wearing a niqab) at the King Abdulaziz Center for National Dialogue. In 2022, the section featured an image of another activity at the King Abdulaziz Center, which included children from different cultures and religions sitting around a table, smiling and talking to one another.

«الحوار» هو تبادل الحديث بين طرفين أو أكثر في قضية محددة: من أجل إثراء المعرفة والأفكار، ويغلب عليه الهدوء والبعد عن التعصب والخصومة.  من أنشطة مركز الملك عبدالعزيز للحوار الوطني ورد لفظ الحوار في القرآن الكريم في أكثر من مناسبة، كما هي قوله تعالى: ﴿وَكَانَ لَهُ نَمَرٌ فَقَالَ لِصَاحِبِهِ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ﴾ [التكوي: ٣٤]، ﴿قَالَ لَهُ صَاحِبُهُ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ﴾ [التكوي: ٣٧]، وقوله تعالى: ﴿قَدْ سَمِعَ اللَّهُ قَوْلَ الَّتِي تُجَادِلُكَ فِي زَوْجِهَا وَتَشْتَكِي إِلَى اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ يَسْمَعُ تَحَاوُرَكُمَا إِنَّ اللَّهَ سَمِيعٌ بَصِيرٌ﴾ [المجادلة: ١٠]. وهذا يثبت أن الحوار أصل من الأصول الثابتة للثقافة الإسلامية ينبع من رسالة الإسلام وهدي، ومن طبيعة ثقافته، وجوهر حضارته.	«الحوار» هو تبادل الحديث بين طرفين أو أكثر في قضية محددة: من أجل إثراء المعرفة والأفكار، ويغلب عليه الهدوء والبعد عن التعصب والخصومة.  من أنشطة مركز الملك عبدالعزيز للحوار الوطني ورد لفظ الحوار في القرآن الكريم في أكثر من مناسبة، كما هي قوله تعالى: ﴿وَكَانَ لَهُ نَمَرٌ فَقَالَ لِصَاحِبِهِ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ﴾ [التكوي: ٣٤]، ﴿قَالَ لَهُ صَاحِبُهُ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ﴾ [التكوي: ٣٧]، وقوله تعالى: ﴿قَدْ سَمِعَ اللَّهُ قَوْلَ الَّتِي تُجَادِلُكَ فِي زَوْجِهَا وَتَشْتَكِي إِلَى اللَّهِ وَاللَّهُ يَسْمَعُ تَحَاوُرَكُمَا إِنَّ اللَّهَ سَمِيعٌ بَصِيرٌ﴾ [المجادلة: ١٠]. وهذا يثبت أن الحوار أصل من الأصول الثابتة للثقافة الإسلامية ينبع من رسالة الإسلام وهدي، ومن طبيعة ثقافته، وجوهر حضارته.

Altered:

Critical thinking is introduced through the character of Galileo Galilei. The textbook explains that Galileo was shunned during his time for producing work that contradicted popular sentiments, and his story is used to articulate the value of thinking critically and tolerating the ideas of others — even if they see the world differently. Most of the text was altered, but its subject and message remain.

Students are taught that it is absolutely forbidden to point a weapon at other people, particularly Muslims, whether seriously or in jest, as well as shooting at weddings and driving cars in an irresponsible manner.

In the 2023 edition, the specific reference to the prohibition of pointing a gun at a Muslim (included in the 2021 edition) was reinstated after it had been removed in 2022; the hadith bolstering the example seems to refer to Muslims, and not people in general. In addition, although the hadith mentioned that the punishment for pointing a gun at another person is Hell, the explanation in the 2022 version omitted it from one of the sections, which was not reinstated in 2023.

- One way that leads to killing and bloodshed is carrying a weapon and pointing it at people, whether intentionally or jokingly.
- It is clearly prohibited to intentionally point a weapon at a Muslim, for he wants to kill or injure a Muslim, both of which are major sins. However, it is also prohibited to do this jokingly, because it terrifies and frightens the Muslim.
- If the prohibition is limited to merely pointing with a weapon, being a reason for entering Hell, then how about those who think it is allowed to shed blood, kill innocent people, terrorize those who are safe, and be corrupt? That is a great evil and a big sin, and he who does it is in great danger.
- A reasonable person avoids pulling out a weapon and raising it in front a person, for he may be killed for a word that was said, for bragging about lineage, for disagreeing over an offer in this world, or in response to impulses of hatred and anger, leading to him losing his worldly life and the hereafter, deserving the fire of Hell.
- It is dangerous to joke with cars and play around with them in front of others, or to use weapons and shoot ammunition at weddings, because this leads to the loss of lives, disabilities, and terrorizing those who are safe, all of which are prohibited by Sharia.

Students are taught to be kind to household workers, Muslim and non-Muslim alike, in a lesson on how Muhammad treated those who took care of him. The textbook explains that it is wrong to hit or insult maids and servants if they make a mistake, while it is twice emphasized that treating one with kindness is also relevant for non-Muslim workers. In 2023, a true-or-false question on being kind and polite only toward Muslim employees was removed, while an instruction for students to share their opinion on this subject still remains.

Students are taught about the historical Constitution of Medina that was signed between Muhammad and Medina's Jewish tribes, which established peace, security, rights, and freedoms for both parties. The textbooks state that this constitution proves the tolerant nature of Islam. The entire textbook was removed in 2023.

بين أفراد المجتمع في المدينة، وتعريفهم حقوقهم وواجباتهم، وترسخ مبدأ التكافل الاجتماعي بين الأفراد، ومبدأ حرية الاعتقاد، وأن الوطن يسع الجميع والدفاع عنه واجبهم جميعاً، وقد عُدت أول وثيقة تؤسس لحقوق الإنسان في التاريخ، وأول دستور متكامل أرسى قواعد المواطنة وثبت أركان العدل بين مكونات المجتمع وطوائفه؛ لكي يسود التسامح والمحبة والسلام.

نظمت الوثيقة العلاقة بين اليهود والمسلمين من حيث العيش بسلام، والحصول على حقوقهم كافة، والتزامهم تجنب نصرة الأعداء، وترتيب حل الخلافات في إطار الدولة، وكذلك العلاقة بين أفراد المجتمع والدولة.

جاء في الوثيقة: «لليهود دينهم، وللمسلمين دينهم - مواليتهم وأنفسهم - إلا من ظلم وأثم فإنه لا يهلك إلا نفسه وأهل بيته». وهذا يدل على سماحة الإسلام والمسلمين، وضرورة التزام المواثيق التي تخدم الجميع وتمكن الدولة من أداء مسؤولياتها.

The Constitution organized the relations between Jews and Muslims [in Medina] to live in peace, [whereby they shall] receive all their rights, be obliged to refrain from aiding their [respective] enemies, prioritize finding solutions to political disagreements, as well as the relations between members of society and the ruling authority.

It is related in the Constitution: "Jews have their religion, and the Muslims have their religion - [this applies to] their allies and their patrons - but whoever acts unjustly and sins will only destroy himself and his agnates." This indicates the tolerant nature of Islam and the Muslims, and the necessity to abide by contracts that serve all and enable the ruling authority to manage its responsibilities.

Methodology

IMPACT-se applies methodological standards which are based on UNESCO and UN declarations, and international recommendations and documents on education for peace and tolerance (see notes). Our methodology is designed to consider every detail within the textbooks; it does not paraphrase, rely on interpretations, or attempt to illustrate pre-conceived notions.

The following is an updated, condensed version of the IMPACT-se UNESCO-derived standards for peace and tolerance in school education:

1 RESPECT

The curriculum should promote tolerance, understanding and respect toward the “Other,” his or her culture, achievements, values and way of life.²⁰

2 INDIVIDUAL OTHER

The curriculum should foster personal attachment toward the “Other” as an individual, his or her desire to be familiar, loved and appreciated.²¹

3 NO HATE

The curriculum should be free of wording, imagery and ideologies likely to create prejudices, misconceptions, stereotypes, misunderstandings, mistrust, racial hatred, religious bigotry and national hatred, as well as any other form of hatred or contempt for other groups or peoples.²²

4 NO INCITEMENT

The curriculum should be free of language, content, and imagery that disseminate ideas or theories which justify or promote acts and expressions of violence, incitement to violence, hostility, harm and hatred toward other national, ethnic, racial or religious groups.²³

²⁰ As defined in the Declaration of Principles on Tolerance Proclaimed and signed by Member States of UNESCO on November 16, 1995, Articles 1, 4.2. See also the UN Declaration on the Promotion among Youth of the Ideals of Peace, Mutual Respect and Understanding Between Peoples (1965), Principles I, III. Universal Declaration of Human Rights (1948): Education shall be directed to the full development of human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. It shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial and religious groups and shall further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace.

²² Ibid., and based on Articles III.6, IV.7 and VII.39; and on the Integrated Framework for Action on Education for Peace, Human Rights and Democracy, approved by the General Conference of UNESCO at its twenty-eighth session, Paris, November 1995, Article 18.2.

²³ As defined in Article 4 of the International Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination (ICERD), adopted by the United Nations General Assembly Resolution 2106 (XX) on December 21, 1965. See also Article 20 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), adopted by the United Nations General Assembly Resolution 2200A (XXI) on December 16, 1966.

5	PEACEMAKING	7	GENDER IDENTITY AND REPRESENTATION
	The curriculum should develop capabilities for non-violent conflict resolution and promote peace. ²⁴		The curriculum should foster equality, mutual respect, and should aim for equal representation between individuals regardless of their gender identity. It should also refrain from language, content, and imagery that depicts limiting and/or exclusionary gender roles. ²⁶
6	UNBIASED INFORMATION	8	SEXUAL ORIENTATION
	Educational materials (textbooks, workbooks, teachers' guides, maps, illustrations, aids) should be up-to-date, accurate, complete, balanced and unprejudiced, and use equal standards to promote mutual knowledge and understanding between different peoples. ²⁵		The curriculum should be free of language, content, and imagery that promulgates violence or discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation. ²⁷

²⁴ Based on the Integrated Framework for Action on Education for Peace, Human Rights and Democracy, approved by the General Conference of UNESCO at its twenty-eighth session, Paris, November 1995, Article 9; and on the Declaration of Principles on Tolerance proclaimed and signed by member states of UNESCO on November 16, 1995, Article 5.

²⁵ Based on UNESCO recommendation concerning education for international understanding, cooperation and peace and education relating to human rights and fundamental freedoms, adopted by the General Conference at its eighteenth session, Paris, November 19, 1974, Article V.14.

²⁶ The preamble to the Declaration of Principles on Tolerance proclaimed and signed by member states of UNESCO on November 16, 1995, notes the Convention on the Elimination of Any Form of Discrimination against Women and emphasizes respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms for all, without distinction as to gender.

²⁷ Based on Resolutions 32/2 (adopted June 30, 2016) and 17/19 (adopted July 14, 2011) of the UN Human Rights Council, and numerous UN General Assembly resolutions expressing concern and condemnation of laws and practices around the world which target individuals based on their gender identity and/or sexual orientation for discrimination, violence, and even extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions—all of which contradict the most basic principles of the UN and have no place in education.

9 SOUND PROSPERITY and COOPERATION:

The curriculum should educate for sound and sustainable economic conduct and preservation of the environment for future generations. It should encourage regional and local cooperation to that effect.²⁸

²⁸ Based on UNESCO recommendation concerning education for international understanding, cooperation and peace and education relating to human rights and fundamental freedoms, adopted by the General Conference at its eighteenth session, Paris, November 19, 1974, Articles III.6, and IV.7. On the imperative for developing "systematic and rational tolerance teaching methods that will address the cultural, social, economic, political and religious sources of intolerance," see the Declaration of Principles on Tolerance proclaimed and signed by member states of UNESCO on November 16, 1995, Article 4.2. On education for international cooperation, see also the UN Declaration on the Promotion among Youth of the Ideals of Peace, Mutual Respect and Understanding between Peoples (1965), Principle II.

Students are no longer taught that martyrdom is a “godly gift and a divine honor” reserved only for the best of His servants, as presented in an interpretation of Qur’anic verses. However, these Qur’anic verses, one of which teaches that God will destroy the disbelievers, are still taught.

A lesson on Qur'anic verses, according to which some Jews and Christians worship idols and Satan, and some Jews were turned into apes and pigs by God, was removed in 2022, after it had already been moderated in 2021. In the 2022 edition, the passages referring explicitly or implicitly to Jews and Christians were entirely removed.

In 2020, students were taught Qur'anic verses according to which some Jews and Christians worship idols and Satan, and some Jews were turned into apes and pigs by God. Although the 2021 edition mentioned that one of the verses refers to "previous nations" instead of "Jews" as in 2020, it could still be interpreted as referring to Jews. Students were also taught another Qur'anic verse, according to which some People of the Book (Christians and Jews) worship idols and Satan.

The occurrence of idolatry [širk] among previous nations, and people of this nation following them:

God has informed in his noble book that idolatry [širk] has occurred among previous nations, and the Prophet has informed that this nation will follow the practices of former nations, and therefore idolatry will occur in this [Islamic] nation, and we must beware of it.

The evidence regarding the occurrence of idolatry among previous nations is:

God Almighty has said:

"Have you not seen those who were given a portion of the Scripture, who believe in idols and Satan and say about the disbelievers." These are better guided than the believers as to the way?"

The evidence that this nation will act as previous nations acted is the hadith of Abu Sa'id al-Khudri: The Prophet has said: You would tread the same path as was trodden by those before you inch by inch and step by step so much so that if they had entered into the hole of the lizard, you would follow them in this also. We said: Allah's Messenger, do you mean Jews and Christians (by your words "those before you")? He said: Who else? '

The textbook removed an implicit reference to Christians and Jews as enemies of Islam, as a part of an explanation on Qur’anic verses, and the lesson was entirely removed in the 2022 edition. The verses accuse Jews and Christians of trying to convert Muslims to their religions, and the explanation given by the textbook discusses “enemies of the Islamic religion” who try to convert Muslims, therefore implying that Christians and Jews are enemies of Islam. In the 2019 textbook, the criticism was directed explicitly against “Christians and Jews,” and in the 2020 and 2021 editions it was changed to “enemies of the Islamic religion,” possibly trying to avoid criticism of these groups, but in practice describing them as enemies of Islam.

... and never will the Jews or the Christians approve of you until you follow their religion “Say, Indeed, the guidance of Allah is the [only] guidance.” If you were to follow their desires after what has come to you of knowledge, you would have against Allah no protector or helper. . .” (Al-Baqarah 119–123)

Sorcery and all that is related to it: The phenomenon of sorcery is known to every nation. For instance, the Jews who deviated and rejected the book of Allah Almighty [the Torah], and accepted sorcery. A paragraph from a high school Islamic Studies textbook, which has been removed from the 2022 edition, presented Islam's interaction with intercultural relations as a cause for deviation from Islamic law and scripture. The intercultural influences chiefly follow the ideas of neighboring nations, of philosophical works, and of newly converted Muslims who did not forgo their prior beliefs. As such, in 2021 the reference to the influence of philosophical works was removed, but a statement was added to the general discussion on new converts plotting against Islam and Muslims - stated to be People of the Book, namely Christians and Jews.

An entire passage teaching that Jesus (Isa, in Islam) is not the son of God, nor does he have God-like abilities “as claimed by the Christians,” was removed. This passage was taught as an explanation for verses from the Maryam Surah. The phrase “as claimed by the Christians,” which portrayed Christian beliefs as false, was added in the 2021 version, after the 2019 version had only alluded to “some” people holding this belief, and in 2020 the reference to any other group was entirely removed.

An example that implicitly criticized Jews and Christians regarding their beliefs about Jesus was removed in the 2022 edition of this Islamic Studies textbook. Students are taught a hadith that discusses the Islamic belief that Jesus (Isa) was Allah's servant and messenger, as previous editions added the interpretation that this hadith is a response to "extremists" who "claimed his divinity to exceed that of Allah's," and "primitives" who "denied his prophethood." The 2021 edition omitted a reference to "extremist Christians" and "primitive Jews," while the 2022 edition removed this criticism entirely, leaving only the hadith.

1. When the Prophet says in the hadith, "that Muhammad is His servant and messenger," this is a response to two groups: extremists and primitives. The extremists are those who raised him above his status that Allah Almighty gave him, and the primitives are those who denied his prophethood and abandoned faith in him and in what he brought.

Students were taught a verse and a hadith according to which the Jews and the Christians are polytheistic, as "they take their rabbis and monks as lords." A verse about Jews and Christians who take their scholars as lords, and a hadith regarding this verse, were given as an explanation for this type of polytheism.

القسم الثاني: الشرك في الطاعة

طاعة المخلوقين بتحليل ما حرم الله، أو تحريم ما أحل الله.

طاعة الأخيار والزُّهَّبان في تبديل شرع الله وأحكامه، فهذه الطاعة تُعدُّ عبادة لهم، وقد سَمَّاهَا اللهُ شِرْكَاً كما في الدليل الآتي:

على أنه شرك؟ ما روي عن عبدِ بنِ حاتمٍ رضي الله عنه قال: سمعتُ النبي ﷺ يقرأ:

﴿ أَفَكُذَّبُوا أَنْكَرُهُمْ وَزُفِّسَتْهُمْ أَوْسَاكًا مِنْ ذُوبِ اللَّهِ وَالْتَمَسَجَ أَبْنَاءُ سَرْبِهِمْ وَمَا أَمَرُوا إِلَّا بِتَسْخُفَاتِهَا وَجَعَلُوا لَهَا إِلَهًا إِلَّا هُوَ شَكَنَتْهُ كَتَا يُتْرِكُونَ ﴾ ^(١)، فقلتُ: إنَّما لَسْنَا نعبُدُهم، فقال: «أليس يُحَرِّمُونَ ما أحلَّ الله، فَتُحَرِّمُونَهُ، وَيُجِلُّونَ ما حَرَّمَ اللهُ، فَتُجِلُّونَهُ؟» قال: قلتُ: بلى.

فقال: «فذلك عبادَتُهُمْ» ^(٢).

(٢) أخرجه الترمذي برقم (٣٠٩٥)، والأخبار هم: علماء اليهود، والرهبان هم: عباد النصارى.

Second part: idolatry in obedience:

The meaning of this is: obeying people who permit what God forbade, or forbid what God permitted.

For example: obeying rabbis and monks and replacing God's laws and rules. This obedience is counted as worshipping them, and God has referred to it as idolatry, as the following evidence teaches us:

The evidence: that this is idolatry is [the hadith] that Adi ibn Hatim narrated: "I heard the Prophet recite: "They have taken their rabbis and monks as lords besides Allah, and [also] the Messiah, the son of Mary. And they were not commanded except to worship one God; there is no deity except Him. Exalted is He above whatever they associate with Him." I said: "We [Christians] do not worship them." [The Prophet Muhammad] said: "Do they not forbid what God permitted, and you consider it forbidden, and permit what God forbade, and you consider it permitted?" I said: "Yes." And he said: "This is worshipping them."*

* [...] "Rabbis": the scholars of the Jews. "Monks": Christian worshipers [sic].

A lesson that discussed Muhammad's dealings with "infidels" identified Jews as infidels, featuring a hadith about Muhammad's armor being mortgaged to a Jew after his death. The context of the lesson appears to imply that this example should be viewed positively as a non-violent interaction between Muslims and Jews. However, the fact that Jews are equated with the term "infidel," and the antisemitic stereotype of Jewish people handling loans and debts, may have dimmed this positive messaging.

The textbook previously provided these quotations as an example for cases in which Quranic verses give more specific information regarding a certain hadith. The hadith previously quoted teaches that Prophet Muhammad said he was “commanded to fight the people until they testify that there is no god but Allah and I am his messenger”, meaning until they accept Islam. The verse previously quoted teaches that the People of the Book should be fought against until they pay the Jizya tax. It should be noted that the textbook only quoted a part of the verse, and therefore did not explicitly mention the People of the Book; however, it is well known that they are those who pay the Jizya, so it is easily understood by students that the verse refers to these groups.

الحالة الرابعة: تخصيص السنة بالكتاب، مثل: قوله ﷺ: «أمرت أن أقاتل الناس حتى يشهدوا أن لا إله إلا الله وأني رسول الله»^(٧)، فهذا عام خص بقول الله تعالى: ﴿حَتَّى يُعْطُوا الْجِزْيَةَ عَنْ يَدٍ وَهُمْ صَاغِرُونَ﴾^(٨).

The fourth case: Specifying the Sunnah with the Quran, such as Muhammad’s saying: “I have been commanded to fight the people until they testify that there is no god but Allah and I am his messenger,” which is specified by the words of God: “until they pay jizyah with their own hands while they are subdued.”

A Grade 8 Islamic studies textbook removed a hadith criticizing a group of Christians for erecting tombs with portraits of their saints. A chapter warning against holding extreme beliefs on saints previously contained a hadith explaining how Muhammad condemned the practice of Abyssinian Christians, who erected places of worship above the tombs of saints, including portraits of those saints. According to the hadith, Muhammad said: "For God those are the worst among creation." The textbook then states in its own words that these people have committed two sins – that of worshipping graves, and that of drawing portraits of saints.

2 - Narrated `Aisha: When the Prophet became ill, some of his wives talked about a church which they had seen in Abyssinia, and it was called Mariya. Umm Salma and Umm Habiba had been to Abyssinia, and both of them narrated its (the church's) beauty and the pictures it contained. The Prophet raised his head and said, "Those are the people who, whenever a pious man dies amongst them, make a place of worship at his grave and then they make those pictures in it. For God those are the worst among creation."

Those people combined two deviations from the right path: that of the graves, and that of the statues.

A statement from a high school Islamic Studies textbook which prohibited showing loyalty to infidels (kuffar) was removed. While the 2019 edition included a clear prohibition of loyalty to infidels, the 2020 and 2021 editions only retained the more subtle prohibition of supporting the infidels out of love for their religion, and against one's Muslim homeland and rulers - considered a major act of unbelief rendering one a non-Muslim. All editions emphasize that aversion and hatred toward heresy and its people do not necessitate being unrighteous and unfair toward them. They also emphasize that Muslims should only fight those who fight against them.

وضع الإسلام قيماً تبين للناس ما يستقيم فيه التعامل فيما بينهم، وقواعد ومبادئ قائمة على القسط والعدل، قال تعالى: ﴿لَا يَنْهَكُمُ اللَّهُ عَنِ الَّذِينَ لَمْ يُقَاتِلُوكُمْ فِي الدِّينِ وَلَمْ يُخْرِجُوكُمْ مِنْ دِينِكُمْ أَنْ تَبَرُّوهُمْ وَتُقْسِطُوا إِلَيْهِمْ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُحِبُّ الْمُقْسِطِينَ﴾^(٢).
البر والقسط والإحسان لا يستلزم المظاهرة والولاء، كما أن البغض والكراهية للكفر وأهله، لا يستلزم ترك البر والإحسان والإقسط إليهم، وقد ندب الله في كتابه إلى بر غير المحاربين كما في الآية السابقة.

Islam established values that show people what is right in their dealings with one another, and rules and principles based on equity and justice, the Almighty said: "Allah does not forbid you from dealing kindly and fairly with those who have neither fought nor driven you out of your homes. Surely Allah loves those who are fair." [60: 8]

Righteousness, equity, and benevolence do not necessitate support and loyalty, just as aversion and hatred against heresy and its people do not necessitate being unrighteous, irreverent and unfair toward them, and God has ordered in his book to be righteous with people who don't fight [against Muslims], as in the above-mentioned verse.

ما المقصود بمظاهرة الكفار؟

المقصود بها أن يكون مناصراً للكفار محبةً لدينهم ضد وطنه المسلم وولادة أمره، فهذا كفر أكبر يخرج من الملة، بدليل قوله تعالى: ﴿وَمَنْ يَتَوَلَّهُمْ مِنْكُمْ فَإِنَّهُ مِنْهُمْ إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي الْقَوْمَ الظَّالِمِينَ﴾^(١). فلا يكون مسلماً ممن نصرهم محبةً لدينهم ضد وطنه المسلم.

What is the meaning of supporting the infidels?

The intention is being a supporter of the infidels out of love for their religion, against his Muslim homeland and its guardians. That is an act of Major Unbelief which renders one a non-Muslim.

A Qur’anic verse from Surah al-Jumu’a comparing Jews to “a donkey carrying books” for failing to abide by the Torah and God was removed in this 2022 edition. Past editions of the textbook further stated that the Jews pretend to be God’s favorites, meaning that they falsely claimed to be safe from God’s punishment in the afterlife. It was explained that the Qur’an challenges the Jews to wish for death, arguing that they will not do so precisely because they know they are lying, implying that God will indeed punish the Jews after death. The verses, as well as all passages explaining them, were entirely removed in 2022.

قال تعالى: ﴿مَثَلُ الَّذِينَ خُمِلُوا التَّوْرَةَ ثُمَّ كَفَرُوا سَوَاءٌ أَلْقَوْهُ أَمْ حَبِطُوا إِلَيْهِنَّ أَمْ لَمْ يَلْمِزْهُمْ أَمْ لَا يَرْجُوا حُسْنًا وَمَا يَخْتَصِمُونَ ٥﴾ قُلْ يَتْلُوا الذِّكْرَ هَادُوا ٦﴾ إِنَّ زَعْمَكُمْ أَنَّكُمْ أَوْلِيَاءُ لِلَّهِ مِنْ دُونِ النَّاسِ فَتَمَنَّوْا الْمَوْتَ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ ٧﴾ وَلَا يَتَمَنَّوْنَهُ أَبَدًا بِمَا قَدَّمَتْ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَاللَّهُ عَلِيمٌ بِالظَّالِمِينَ ٨﴾ قُلْ إِنَّ الْمَوْتَ الَّذِي تَفِرُّونَ مِنْهُ فَإِنَّهُ مُتَجَبِّرٌ ثُمَّ تُرَدُّونَ إِلَىٰ عِلِّيِّ الْعَلِيِّ وَالشَّهَادَةُ قَبْلَكُمْ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ٩﴾

وهذه الآيات تبين:

- كذب هؤلاء في دعواهم أنهم أحباب الله، وأن الله تعالى لن يعذبهم، وذلك بتحديهم أن يطلبوا الموت إذا كانوا صادقين.
- أن الله بين أن اليهود لا يتمنون الموت لعلهم بأنهم كاذبون في دعواهم.

The Almighty said: “The example of those who were entrusted with the Torah but failed to do so, is that of a donkey carrying books. How evil is the example of those who reject Allah’s signs! For Allah does not guide the wrongdoing people. Say, [O Prophet], ‘O you who follow Judaism! If you claim that you are allies of Allah, excluding the [other] people, then wish for death, if what you say is true.’ But they will never wish for that because of what their hands have done. And Allah has knowledge of the wrongdoers. Say, “The death you are running away from will inevitably come to you. Then you will be returned to the Knower of the seen and unseen, and He will inform you of what you used to do.” [Al-Jumu’ah, 5-8]

These verses explain:

- The lie of those who claim they are Allah’s beloved ones, and that Allah Almighty will never punish them, by challenging them to wish for death if they indeed are correct.
- That Allah explained that the Jews do not wish for death, because they know they lie with their claims.

وقد جاء ذكر لفظ الغلو في القرآن الكريم في موضعين وكان الخطاب فيهما للنصارى، فأحدهما: في قوله تعالى:

﴿يَا أَهْلَ الْكِتَابِ لَا تَغْلُوا فِي دِينِكُمْ وَلَا تَقُولُوا عَلَى اللَّهِ إِلَّا الْحَقَّ إِنَّمَا الْمَسِيحُ عِيسَى ابْنُ مَرْيَمَ رَسُولُ اللَّهِ وَكَلِمَتُهُ أَلْقَاهَا إِلَى مَرْيَمَ وَرُوحٌ مِنْهُ فَآمِنُوا بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ وَلَا تَقُولُوا ثَلَاثَةٌ ۚ أَنْتَهُوا خَيْرًا لَكُمْ إِنَّمَا اللَّهُ إِلَهُ وَاحِدٌ سُبْحَانَهُ أَنْ يَكُونَ لَهُ وَلَدٌ ۚ لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَكَفَى بِاللَّهِ وَكِيلًا﴾^(١)

تتعدد أشكال الغلو وصوره، فمنه ما يكون في الاعتقاد، ومنه ما يكون في القول والعمل:

١- الغلو في الاعتقاد: ويتمثل في مجاوزة حدود الاعتقاد الصحيح إلى غيره من ضروب الانحراف ومنه:

• الغلو في عيسى عليه السلام وجعله في مرتبة الألوهية.

وقال عليه الصلاة والسلام: «لَا تُطْرُونِي كَمَا أَطَرَتِ النَّصَارَى ابْنَ مَرْيَمَ فَإِنَّمَا أَنَا عَبْدٌ فَقُولُوا عِبْدُ اللَّهِ وَرَسُولُهُ»^(٢).

The Holy Qur'an mentions the concept of exaggeration twice, and in both times the discourse is directed at Christians. One of those instances is when the Almighty says:

“O People of the Book! Do not go to extremes regarding your faith; say nothing about Allah except the truth. The Messiah, Jesus, son of Mary, was no more than a messenger of Allah and the fulfilment of His Word through Mary and a spirit from Him. So, believe in Allah and His messengers and do not say, “Trinity.” Stop! - for your own good. Allah is only One God. Glory be to Him! He is far above having a son! To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and whatever is on the earth. And Allah is sufficient as a Trustee of Affairs.” (An-Nisa, 171.)

There are many forms of exaggeration, including exaggeration in belief, which is manifested in words and action:

1 - Exaggeration in belief: Exceeding the limits of the correct belief to other forms of deviation, including:

* Exaggeration regarding Jesus, elevating him to a degree of divinity.

The Prophet said: “Do not exaggerate in praising me as the Christians praised the son of Mary, for I am only a Slave. So, call me the Slave of Allah and His Messenger.”

A high school social studies textbook for 2022 no longer contains a section describing the positive results of the First Intifada. Between 2019-2021, the textbooks presented the positive results of the Intifada, which included increased international sympathy toward the Palestinians, the exposure of the “falsified democracy” of the “Zionist enemy,” ending the Palestinian dependence on the Israeli economy, and negative net migration rate from Israel. In removing this section, the positive representation of the Intifada, which is built on violent uprisings against Israelis, has been significantly moderated.

آثار الانتفاضة:

على الرغم من الخسائر التي تكبدتها الانتفاضة، فإنها حققت إنجازات ضخمة ومكاسب تتلخص في الآتي:

- زيادة التعاطف العالمي مع الشعب الفلسطيني بضرورة حل قضية فلسطين.
- كشف زيف الديمقراطية التي يزعمها العدو الصهيوني.
- تخلص الاقتصاد الفلسطيني من تبعيته للمؤسسات الاقتصادية الصهيونية، وقيام اقتصاد فلسطيني بديل.
- بدء الهجرة المضادة من إسرائيل.

Repercussions of the Intifada

The losses caused by the Intifada notwithstanding, it marked serious achievements and profits which are summarized in the following:

- Increasing international sympathy with the Palestinian people and particularly solving the issue of Palestine.
- Revealing the falsified democracy maintained by the Zionist enemy.
- Ending the Palestinian economy's dependence on Zionist economic institutions, and establishing an alternative Palestinian economy.
- Beginning of negative emigration from Israel.

The same textbook also asked female students to indicate where their “mother prepares food,” a reference to the kitchen, and showed an illustration of a woman preparing food – both insinuating that food preparation is a woman’s task. When teaching a hadith about the virtue of nurturing daughters and sisters, a Grade 9 Islamic studies textbook explains that Islam cares for all women, granting them their proper status and rights. Moreover, the 2022 edition omitted the comment that kindness toward daughters and sisters must coincide with the Sharia, and that what contradicts the Sharia is not considered an act of kindness (for instance, granting leniency with regards clothing, and not dressing modestly). Given that the lesson presented the Prophet as a role model for respectful conduct toward his wives (such as assisting them in housework), the lesson is likely intended for students to identify the above behavior as contrary to Muhammad's conduct. Omitting this question may thus reflect an attempt to dispel any ambiguity surrounding this issue, removing any space for answers that reflect the opposite, intolerant conduct. In a grade 7 Islamic Studies textbook, a section prescribing the beating of children over 10 years old who fail to perform prayers was removed from a chapter on prayer in the 2022 edition. The 2021 edition had stated that parents should beat children over 10 years old who fail to perform the prayer, strengthening the argument with a hadith. In 2022, the part of this hadith that refers to beating was omitted, as was the explanation of the duty of parents to beat their children in this context. The omitted part was not reinstated in 2023.

In 2022, the below textbook removed two quotations of a Quranic verse that states: "As for the thief, the male and the female, amputate their hands." The verse was quoted twice as an example of issues concerning the understanding of Quranic verses based on grammatical issues. In one case, the textbook also explained in its own words that, based on the Quranic verse, the amputation of thieves' hands is obligatory, without explaining whether this ruling is relevant in modern times. The 2022 textbook removed this verse, leaving other examples for the issues taught, possibly in order to avoid discussion of violent punishment.

Textual formulas of generalization:

Generalization is understood according to the meaning of Arabic expression in many forms, including:

...

2 – Words made definite by the article which indicates inclusion, and words made definite by the construct state – whether singular or plural – for example:

...

The Almighty's saying: "As for the thief, the male and the female, amputate their hands." [Al-Ma'ida Surah, 38]

Cases of generalization and limitation

The Almighty's saying: "As for the thief, the male and the female, amputate their hands."... the word "hands" is unlimited in the first verse... the ruling regarding the first verse is that the amputation is obligatory... the Sunnah explains that the amputation is from the wrist.

After learning verses from Surah 29 of the Qur'an (Al-Ankabut,) students were instructed to speculate as to why the Jews and Christians refused to accept Muhammad as their prophet. The implied answer is that the Jews and the Christians' immoral character prevented them from doing so.

Think: Despite making his case to them, the People of the Book refused to recognize the Prophet's status as Messenger and the Qur'an that was revealed to him. In your assessment, what prevented them from having Faith and entering Islam?

سبب النهي عن موالاة الكفار

نهى الله تعالى عن موالاة الكفار لأمرين، منها:

الموالاة الممنوعة

وهي موالاة الكافرين بمحبتهم ومناصرتهم على المسلمين. كما قال تعالى: ﴿لَا يَتَّخِذُ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ الْكَافِرِينَ أَوْلِيَاءَ مِنْ دُونِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ فَلَيْسَ مِنَ اللَّهِ فِي شَيْءٍ إِلَّا أَنْ تَسْقُوهُمْ وَهُمْ كُفَّارٌ﴾ (١). وهذا نهى من الله تعالى للمؤمنين عن موالاة الكافرين بالمحبة والمنصرة.

١- أن الكفار أعداء الله تعالى، وقد أخبر الله تعالى في آيات كثيرة عن عداوته لهم ومن ذلك قوله تعالى: ﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَتَّخِذُوا عَدُوِّي أَوْلِيَاءَ تَقُولُ إِنَّهُمْ الْبَرَّةُ وَالْمُؤَدَّةُ وَلَقَدْ كَفَرُوا بِمَا جَاءَكُمْ مِنَ الْحَقِّ يُخْرِجُونَ الرَّسُولَ وَإِنَّا لَمُبْتَلُونَ أَن تَقُولُوا يَا اللَّهُ رَبِّكُمْ إِن كُنْتُمْ حَرَجْتُمْ جَهَنَّمَ فِي سَبِيلِي وَإِنِّي لَشَرُّنَ الْبَرِّينَ وَالْمُؤَدَّةُ وَأَنَا أَغَارِبُ مَا أَخْفَيْتُمْ وَمَا أَعْلَمْتُمْ وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْهُ يَفْعَلْهُ وَنُكْمٌ فَذَلِكُمْ سُوءُ السَّبِيلِ﴾ (٢).

٢- أن موالاة الكفار تؤدي إلى الرضا بما هم عليه من الكفر، وهذا يتنافى مع الرضا بالله رباً وبالإسلام ديناً وبمحمد ﷺ رسولاً.

٣- أن الكفار أعداء الإسلام وأهله، قال تعالى: ﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَتَّخِذُوا الْيَهُودَ وَالنَّصَارَى أَوْلِيَاءَ بَعْضُهُمْ أَوْلِيَاءُ بَعْضٍ وَمَنْ يَتَوَلَّهُمْ فَإِنَّهُ يَكُونُ مِنْهُمْ وَإِنَّهُ لَا يَهْدِي الْقَوْمَ الظَّالِمِينَ﴾ (٣)، وقال تعالى: ﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَتَّخِذُوا آبَاءَكُمْ وَإِخْوَانَكُمْ أَوْلِيَاءَ إِنِ اسْتَحَبُّوا الْكُفْرَ عَلَى الْإِيمَانِ وَمَنْ يَتَوَلَّهُمْ فإِنَّهُمْ أَوْلِيَاءُ لَهُمُ الظَّالِمُونَ﴾ (٤).

Forbidden Amity

That means taking the infidels' side, by loving them and aiding them against Muslims. As God said: "Let not believers take disbelievers as allies rather than believers. And whoever of you does that has nothing with God, except when taking precaution against them in prudence. And God warns you of Himself, and to God is the destination." (3:28) This is God's prohibition on Believers from taking the infidels' side in terms of affection and assistance.

The Reason why Taking the Infidels' Side is Forbidden

God Almighty forbids taking the infidels' side for several reasons:

1. The infidels are the enemies of God. God makes his enmity to them known in many Verses, such as: [...]
2. Taking the infidels' side leads to acceptance of their unbelief, which in turn negates one's acceptance of God as God, Islam as faith and Muhammad as God's Messenger.
3. The infidels are the enemies of Islam and its people. The Almighty said: "Oh you who believe, do not take the Jews and the Christians as allies, they are allies of each other, and whoever among you takes them as allies is surely one of them, indeed God does not guide the evildoers." [...]
4. Taking the infidels' side causes one to rely on them and come to their aid, which in turn brings about God's punishment and wrath [...]

Students learned that one of the goals of studying the science of hadith - evaluating the credibility of Islamic oral tradition - is to keep the Islamic religion clear of isrā'īliyyāt, Israelite traditions. It was explained that these traditions indirectly cause divisions within the Islamic nation (ummah).

هـ تنقية الأذهان وصيانتها من الخرافات والإسرائيليات التي تفسد العقائد والعبادات، وتفتت في عضد الشعوب، وتمزق الأمة، إذ جعلها فرقاً وأحزاباً، لا تميز بين الحق والباطل، فيسهل انقيادها لكل ناعق يدعو إلى الضلال.

5. To purify the mind and protect it from superstitions and Israelite traditions, which serve to corrupt both faith and practice, and weaken the mainstay of nations. They shatter the [Islamic] Nation into various sects and factions which do not make a distinction between truth and falsehood, thus making it easy prey for any man preaching error.

The text condemned Jewish religion as “negligent” [tafrīf] and Christian religion as “excessive” [ghulūw], arguing that Islam is superior to both.

First: Islam is the Middle Way between Excess and Strictness

The religion of Islam is the middle way, in terms of beliefs, methodology, stipulations, practices, laws, and ethics, in its interactions and conduct, and in all matters. It distances itself from the excesses of the Christians, and the negligence of the Jews.

The Temple Mount was equated with the Al-Aqsa Mosque, as the Jews were accused of desecrating it by turning it into a marketplace for lending and exchanging money. The Jews were also blamed as a collective for killing Jesus's disciples, Zechariah (Zakarya) and John (Yahya) the Baptist, as well as attempting to kill Jesus ('Isa) himself. Finally, it was stated that the Jews had lost interest in the Al-Aqsa Mosque/Temple Mount - implying that their present-day claims to it are fabricated - and that the Western Wall is the wall to which Muhammad tied his beast Al-Buraq to, thus claiming that site as Islamic.

ثم جدّد بناءه نبيّ الله يعقوب عليه السلام، ثم بعده بألف عام تقريباً جدّد بناءه نبيّ الله سليمان عليه السلام، وبناه بناءً عظيماً^(٢). وبعد موت نبيّ الله سليمان عليه السلام بقرون عبثت فيه أيدي الآشوريين والرومان^(٣)، ودُمّر المسجد الأقصى أكثر من مرّة، ولما بعث الله عيسى عليه السلام أمر بني إسرائيل بالمحافظة عليه وتطهيره والعناية به، فلم يبالوا بما أمرهم. وتمادوا في غيهم وكثرت جرائمهم حتى نالت من قدسيّة المسجد المقدّس، واتّخذوه سوقاً للصيّافرة والمرابين وملعباً للحمام، ثم ازداد إجرامهم فقتلوا زكريا ويحيى عليهما السلام، وحاولوا قتل عيسى عليه السلام. ولما تمكن الرومان من أرض فلسطين قام أحد ملوكهم بحرق بيت المقدس وتدمير المسجد الأقصى، ثم لم يبال اليهود بهذا المكان المقدّس، ومع مرور الزمن أضاعوا مكانه واختلفت كتبهم في تحديد موقعه، وخلت أرض المسجد من أيّ بناء سوى بقايا من السور المحيط بالمسجد، ومنه حائط البراق الذي ربط فيه النبيّ صلى الله عليه وآله الدابة ليلة الإسراء.

The Al-Aqsa Mosque is located in the southeastern part of Occupied Jerusalem, encompassing an area of 144,000 square meters. The first to build the Al-Aqsa Mosque was the Prophet of God, Abraham. . . . The Al-Aqsa Mosque was destroyed multiple times. When God sent Jesus, He commanded the Children of Israel to protect it, purify it and take care for it. However, they did not follow what He had commanded them, and continued to deviate from the right path. So numerous were their crimes, that they began to adulterate the very sanctity of the Al-Aqsa Mosque. They turned it into a marketplace for money changers and money lenders, and as a playground for pigeons. Their sinfulness grew even greater, as they killed Zechariah and John [the Baptist], and tried to kill Jesus

When the Romans succeeded in conquering the territory of Palestine, one of their rulers burned Jerusalem and destroyed the Al-Aqsa Mosque. Afterwards, the Jews paid that holy place no heed, and as time went by, they forgot its location, and their books disagreed as to its whereabouts. The mosque's grounds became vacant of any building except for remains of the wall which surrounded the mosque. Part of that is the Al-Buraq Wall, to which the Prophet tied his riding beast on the Night of Ascension.

The Saudi curriculum presented Islam as a perfect middle ground between the extreme beliefs of the Jews and the Christians. Judaism was criticized for rejecting Jesus ('Isa) and imbuing God with human attributes, while Christianity was criticized for equating Jesus with God.

عنها التشبيه والتمثيل والتعطيل، قال الله تعالى: ﴿لَيْسَ كَمِثْلِهِ شَيْءٌ وَهُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْبَصِيرُ﴾^(٢). قال ابن تيمية رحمه الله: (فالمسلمون في صفات الله تعالى وسط بين اليهود الذين شبَّهوا الخالق بال مخلوق... وبين النصارى الذين شبَّهوا المخلوق بالخالق، والمسلمون وصفوا الخالق بصفات الكمال ونزهوه عن صفات النقص)^(٣).

Ibn Taymiyyah, God rest his soul, once said: "As far as God's attributes are concerned, the Muslims take the middle path between the Jews—who equate the Creator with Creation; and the Christians—who equate Creation to the Creator. The Muslims ascribe to the Creator the attribute of perfection, and consider Him to be above the attributes of imperfection."

4. The Muslim's beliefs take the middle path regarding the prophets of God, His messengers, and His books. They believe in all of them, unlike the Christians who go too far in their regard of Jesus, and the Jews who accused him of lying and fought him.

The Saudi textbook held a Jewish man responsible for the assassination the third caliph, 'Uthman ibn 'Affan (656 AD), by members of the heterodox Kharijite sect; a major event in Islamic history, and a milestone in the development of the Sunni-Shiite divide. The Jewish man, Abdullah ibn Saba, referred to as "this Jew," was described as a liar and a traitor; he was blamed for spreading discord and disunity among the Muslim community and creating the major rifts that define Islam to this day - specifically, between Sunnis and Shiites.

سبب الفتنة: تأمر الكفار على الإسلام وأهله، فاندس فيهم مكرّ خبيث تظاهر بالإسلام كذباً وزوراً وهو رأس النفاق عبد الله بن سبأ، فأخذ هذا اليهودي ينفض حقه وسمومه ضد الخليفة الثالث من الخلفاء الراشدين: عثمان بن عفان رضي الله عنه وأرضاه، ويخلف التهم ضده، فالتف حوله من انخدع به من قاصري النظر وضعاف الإيمان ومحبي الفتنة، وانتهت المؤامرة بقتل الخليفة الراشد عثمان رضي الله عنه مظلوماً، وعلى إثر مقتله حصل الاختلاف بين المسلمين وشبت الفتنة بين بعض الصحابة، قال شيخ الإسلام ابن تيمية رحمه الله: (فلما قتل عثمان رضي الله عنه تفرقت

. . . The reason for the discord: the infidels conspired against Islam and its people. This Jew began spitting his hatred and poison against the third Righteous Caliph, 'Uthman ibn 'Affan, and it pleased him; he fabricated charges against the Caliph. Around him gathered those who had been fooled by him: short-sighted, weak in faith, lovers of discord. The conspiracy resulted with the unjust murder of the Righteous Caliph 'Uthman. Following his death, conflict broke out among the Muslims and discord blazed among some of the Companions of the Prophet. [...]

Schemes by the Enemies of Islam: there were people who entered Islam, who had no intention of having faith in it, whose sole intention was to destroy Islam and concoct schemes against it. Such was Abdullah ibn Saba, the Jew who entered Islam and spread discord against the Caliph 'Uthman ibn 'Affan. The discord he led resulted in the murder of 'Uthman ibn 'Affan, and the emergence of the Kharijites and the Rafidites [heterodox sects of Islam].

A description of the people who wronged and hurt Muhammad throughout his life included the Jews of Medina, who were accused of plotting against him, and potentially also of double-crossing him and breaching their agreements with him.

ومن تأمل سيرة النبي ﷺ رأى تلون الأحوال عليه من سَلَمٍ وحرب، وغنى وفقر، وأمن وخوف، وإقامة في وطنه وظَعْنٍ عنه بعدما تركه وهاجر منه لله تعالى، وقَتَلَ أحبَّابه وأوليائه بين يديه، وأذى الكفار له بسائر أنواع الأذى؛ من تكذيبهم له، واستهزائهم به، وصدهم النَّاسَ عن سَبِيلِهِ، وحملهم له على مُفارقةِ وطنه، وإعلانِ الحربِ عليه، وتأليبِ النَّاسِ حتى يُنَاصِبُوهُ العداَّةَ ويَرْمُوهُ عن قوسٍ واحدة، وغزوهم دارَ هِجْرَتِهِ للقضاءِ عليه ووَادِ دينِهِ واستئصالِ شَأْفَتِهِ، وممالةِ أعدائِهِ من اليهود والمنافقين في المدينة عليه، وكيدِ هؤلاء له، ومكرِهِم به، ونقضِهِم ميثاقَهُم الذي وَاتَّقَهُم به، والتحالفِ مع المشركين على حربِهِ، وسعيِهِم إلى قتله غيلةً وغدرًا، وهو مع ذلك كله صابر على أمر الله يدعو إلى الله، فرفع الله له ذكره، وكان ابتلاءً زيادةً في شرفه وفضله، ورفعته لدرجته ومنزلته، حتى وصل إلى أعلى المقامات.

Anyone who contemplates the Prophet's biography can see how his life's circumstances changed between peace and war, wealth and poverty, and safety and fear; he was established in his homeland, then abandoned it for God's sake and migrated away from it.

His loved ones and friends died between his hands.

The infidels hurt him in all sorts of ways: they accused of him of lies, mocked him, and kept people away from his path. They prompted him to leave his homeland, and declared war against him. They incited people to open hostilities with him and join forces against him, invaded his adopted home in order to destroy it, bury his religion alive and eradicate him.

They made common cause against him with the Jews and Hypocrites in Medina who were his enemies, and with the plots they had concocted against him; they double-crossed him, breached the treaty they had made with him, allied with the idolaters to fight him, and endeavored to treacherously murder him in secret.

Nevertheless, he did nothing but bear it all with patience as God had commanded.

Polytheism is described as the greatest sin possible, which is unforgivable by Allah and punished by an eternity in Hell. Hence, Muslims are to avoid taking on any characteristic of polytheists. Even though the following text was removed, the 2021 version still teaches about polytheism and the need to avoid it.

الشرك لا يغفره الله تعالى

الشرك أعظم الذنوب، ولهذا لا يغفره الله تعالى، قال تعالى: ﴿إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَغْفِرُ أَنْ يُشْرَكَ بِهِ وَيَغْفِرُ مَا دُونَ ذَلِكَ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ وَمَنْ يُشْرِكْ بِاللَّهِ فَقَدْ افْتَرَىٰ إِثْمًا عَظِيمًا﴾ [النساء: ٤٨].

ولمسلم عن جابر رضي الله عنه أن رسول الله ﷺ قال: «مَنْ لَقِيَ اللَّهَ لَا يُشْرِكُ بِهِ شَيْئًا دَخَلَ الْجَنَّةَ، وَمَنْ لَقِيَهِ يُشْرِكُ بِهِ شَيْئًا دَخَلَ النَّارَ» [مسلم رقم ٩٣].

التحذير من صفات المشركين

لما كان الشرك الأكبر سبباً يوصل إلى النار، جاءت النصوص الكثيرة بالتحذير منه، ومن الانصاف بصفات أهله، وأمر المسلم أن يتصف بصفات أهل التوحيد، ويقتدي بإمامهم محمد ﷺ.

Allah Almighty does not forgive polytheism:

Polytheism is the greatest sin; thus, Allah Almighty does not forgive it. The Almighty said: “Indeed, Allah does not forgive associating others with Him [in worship], but forgives anything else of whoever He wills. And whoever associates others with Allah has indeed committed a grave sin.” (An-Nisa [The Women], 48)

It is narrated on the authority of Jabir, that the Messenger of Allah said: “He who met Allah without associating anything with Allah entered Paradise and he who met Him associating [anything] with Him entered Fire.”

Warning about the characteristics of polytheists:

As Greater Polytheism results in Hell, many texts warn about it, describe the characteristics of those who practice it, order the Muslim to take on the characteristics of the people of Tawhid, and emulate their leader Muhammad.

Verses from the Al-Furqan Surah teach that polytheists always collaborate against Allah, with the textbook's interpretation even adding that they collaborate with the devil. Students are taught that the Qur'an states polytheists will go to Hell, instead of the Paradise that awaits believers.

"Yet, they worship others besides Allah what can neither benefit nor harm them. And the disbeliever always collaborates against their Lord." (Al-Furqan [The Criterion], 55) The polytheist was helping the devil against his Lord by associating others with Allah, showing Him his disobedience.

The Ayah proves:

The polytheists have no excuse to worship deities, as they know that they will neither cause harm nor be of help.

"And We have sent you [O Prophet] only as a deliverer of good news and a warner." (Al-Furqan [The Criterion], 56) Good news of Heaven for believers, and a warning of Hell for the polytheists.

b. God Almighty forbade befriending the infidels. As He said: "You will not find a people who believe in God and the Last Day having affection for those who oppose God and His Messenger, even if they were their fathers or their sons or their brothers or their kindred. Those—He has decreed within their hearts faith and supported them with spirit from Him. And We will admit them to gardens beneath which rivers flow, wherein they abide eternally. Love of life and dislike of death were taught to be a source of terrible weakness and sinfulness of contemporary Muslims, which will ultimately lead to them being attacked and subjugated by the nations of the world.

عن ثوبان مولى رسول الله ﷺ قال: قال رسول الله ﷺ: «يُوشِكُ الْأُمَمُ أَنْ تَدَاعَى عَلَيْكُمْ كَمَا تَدَاعَى الْأَكَلَةُ إِلَى قَصْعَتِهَا»، فَقَالَ قَائِلٌ: وَمِنْ قَلَّةٍ نَحْنُ يَوْمَئِذٍ؟ قَالَ: «بَلْ أَنْتُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ كَثِيرٌ، وَلَكِنْكُمْ غَنَاءٌ كَفَاءُ السَّبِيلِ، وَلَيَنْزِعَنَّ اللَّهُ مِنْ صُدُورِ عَدُوِّكُمْ الْمَهَابَةَ مِنْكُمْ، وَلَيَقْذِفَنَّ اللَّهُ فِي قُلُوبِكُمُ الْوَهْنَ»، فَقَالَ قَائِلٌ: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، وَمَا الْوَهْنُ؟ قَالَ: «حُبُّ الدُّنْيَا، وَكَرَاهِيَةُ الْمَوْتِ»⁽¹⁾.

Thawban, slave of the Prophet, narrated that the Prophet said: “Nations will soon summon one another to attack you, as people, when eating, invite others to share their dish. Will that be because of our small numbers at that time?” someone asked. “No,” the Prophet replied, “You will be numerous at that time; but you will be scum and rubbish like that carried down by a torrent. God will remove the fear of you from the hearts of your enemy, and shove enervation into your hearts.”

“O Messenger of God, what is enervation?” someone asked.

The Prophet replied, “Love of this world and dislike of death.”

3. The Prophet summarized the cause which brings about humiliation, degradation, and weakness of this great and powerful [Islamic] Nation. In one word: “love of this world,” which leads to “disdain for death.” Loving this world and preoccupying oneself with it, at the expense of the hereafter—giving it precedence over the hereafter - is the root cause of every sin. In fact, the whole reason for the Nation’s weakness and disunity stems from that cause, and this is made clear by all of the Prophet’s words and his great wisdom.

In a chapter about jihad that was removed in 2021, it was taught that jihad is “the climax of Islam” and is one of “the best of pious acts and greatest forms of obedience.” Instead of referring to its more peaceful and spiritual aspects, examples were chosen from the Qur’an and hadith that celebrate violent jihad. One verse even argued that martyrs never really die, but instead live with Allah and are greatly rewarded, thus legitimizing and even prioritizing combat and violence as a form of jihad.

The Virtue of Jihad for the Sake of Allah:

Jihad for the sake of Allah, in its particular meaning, is the climax of Islam. It is among the best of pious acts and [among] the greatest forms of obedience, made lawful to elevate the word of Allah Almighty and to spread His Dawah to everyone. The countless Ayahs and the Prophetic Hadiths are evidence of this virtue. The Almighty says: “Allah has indeed purchased from the believers their lives and wealth in exchange for Paradise. They fight in the cause of Allah and kill or are killed. This is a true promise binding on Him in the Torah, the Gospel, and the Qur’an. And whose promise is truer than Allah’s? So, rejoice in the exchange you have made with Him. That is [truly] the ultimate triumph.” [At-Tawbah: 111]

The Exalted says: “Never think of those martyred in the cause of Allah as dead. In fact, they are alive with their Lord, well provided for - rejoicing in Allah’s bounties and being delighted for those yet to join them. There will be no fear for them, nor will they grieve. They are joyful for receiving Allah’s grace and bounty, and that Allah does not deny the reward of the believers.” (Ali Imran: 169–171)

...

They also quoted Anas, who narrated that the Prophet said: “Going out in the morning in the cause of Allah, or in the evening, is better than the world and what is in it.”

In a chapter about jihad that was removed in 2021, one condition for engaging in jihad is the ability to do so, exemplified by Muhammad who was at first at a disadvantage against the Quraysh tribe. He could wage jihad against them only after immigrating to Medina, and re-establishing the Muslims' power.

٣ القدرة على الجهاد فإن النبي ﷺ لم يقاتل كفار قريش قبل الهجرة، بل لم يشرع الجهاد قبلها لأن المسلمين كانوا في حال ضعف وقلة، وبعد الهجرة وقيام الدولة المسلمة القوية شرع الجهاد.

3. The ability to perform jihad: The Prophet did not fight the Quraysh infidels before the Hijrah, and he even did not legislate jihad beforehand, for the Muslims were weak and outnumbered. However, after the Hijrah and the establishment of the powerful Muslim State, he legitimated jihad.

Violence and murder on behalf of Muhammad were justified, and praised in a hadith that exemplifies the love that Muhammad's companions had for him, formerly including descriptions of two young companions who killed a man for voicing swear words at Muhammad.

عن عبد الرحمن بن عوف رضي الله عنه قال: (بينما أنا واقف في الصف يوم بدر فنظرت عن يميني وعن شمالي فإذا أنا بغلامين من الأنصار حديثا أسنانهما تمنيت أن أكون بين أضلع منهما فغمزني أحدهما فقال: يا عم هل تعرف أبا جهل؟ قلت: نعم ما حاجتك إليه يا ابن أخي، قال: أخبرني أنه يسب رسول الله ﷺ والذي نفسي بيده لئن رأيته لا يفارق سوادي سواده حتى يموت الأعجل منا، فتعجبت لذلك، فغمزني الآخر، فقال لي مثلها فلم أنشب أن نظرت إلى أبي جهل يجول في الناس قلت: ألا إن هذا صاحبكما الذي سألتماني فابتدراه بسيفيهما فضرباه حتى قتلاه) ^(١).

'Abd al-Rahman ibn 'Awf narrated:

"While I was standing in the row on the day of the battle of Badr, I looked to my right and my left and saw two youths, supporters from Medina, both young in years. I wished I had been stronger than they.

One of them called my attention, saying, "O Uncle! Do you know Abu Jahl?"

"Yes," I said, "What do you want from him, O nephew of mine?"

"I have been informed that he utters curses against the Messenger of God," he replied. "By Him in Whose Hands my life is, if I should see him, then my body will not leave his body, until one of us who is destined to die earlier dies!"

I was astonished at that talk. Then the other boy called my attention, repeating what the other had said.

After a while I saw Abu Jahl walking amongst the people. "Look!" I said. "This is the man you asked me about. They then attacked him with their swords and struck him to death."

In a chapter about jihad that was removed in 2021, students were presented with very specific circumstances in which jihad is to be performed, forbidding Muslims from retreating from the battlefield, as well as discussing jihad as a matter of self-defense or being ordered by the ruler.

Situations in which Jihad is Designated:

Scholars mentioned that jihad is designated to a person in three situations;

1. If two ranks face each other, then those who are present are forbidden from retreating. The Almighty says: “O believers! When you face the disbelievers in battle, never turn your backs to them. And whoever does so on such an occasion - unless it is a maneuver or to join their own troops - will earn the displeasure of Allah, and their home will be Hell. What an evil destination!” [Al-Anfal, 15–16]
2. If the infidels assault a specific land, then its people must fight them and protect it, for self-defence is a duty. The Almighty said: “Fight in the cause of Allah against those who wage war against you, but do not exceed the limits. Allah does not like transgressors.” [Al-Baqarah, 190]
3. If the ruler mobilizes a nation, they are to comply. The Almighty says: “O believers! What is the matter with you that when you are asked to march forth in the cause of Allah, you cling firmly to the land? Do you prefer the life of this world over the Hereafter? The enjoyment of this worldly life is insignificant compared to that of the Hereafter. If you do not march forth, He will afflict you with a painful torment and replace you with other people. You are not harming Him in the least. And Allah is Most Capable of everything.” [At-Tawbah, 38–39]

Conservative gender stereotypes were reinforced in a removed image that shows a mother hanging laundry and cooking meals as her contribution to family life. In light of Jerusalem's good virtues, its place in Islamic law and in the hearts of Muslims - and in recognition of its own sense of responsibility - the Permanent Committee for Scholarly Research and Fatwabs in Saudi Arabia follows with deep sorrow, and will keep following, aggressions and oppressive actions taken and being taken, as they intensify with each passing day, including families being taken out of their houses, the expulsion of thousands of people from their properties and the expropriation of their houses, farms and residences—all so as to allow the Jews to establish the illegal appropriations they call the "settlements" on top of them, to attack religious worshippers, to build the Separation Fence, to harden the economic siege, to confiscate identification cards, to make arrests, to degrade the level of public services, to shut down charities, and to harass people in various different ways. There is no doubt that this is a crime, a form of oppression, and an injustice towards Jerusalem, the Al-Aqsa Mosque, and the people of Palestine. . .

محاولات هدم اليهود للمسجد الأقصى وبناء الهيكل

مع الاحتلال اليهودي المعاصر لدولة فلسطين، ورغم كل المواثيق الدولية التي تمنع المساس بالمقدسات وأماكن العبادة؛ إلا أن الاحتلال اليهودي بجمعياته ومنظماته لا يفتأ ليل نهار يخطط ويكيد لهدم المسجد الأقصى وتدميره أو إحراقه والعبث فيه.

وقد نسج حاخامات اليهود أسطورة نسبوها إلى نبي الله سليمان عليه السلام، ليتخذوها ذريعة في هدم المسجد الأقصى، حيث زعموا أن تحت أرض المسجد (هيكل سليمان)، وهو عبارة عن أنقاض معبد ضخم، ادّعوا أن سليمان عليه السلام كان قد بناء لليهود؛ ليقوموا فيه شعائهم الدينية ويؤدوا فيه طقوسهم، ويذبحوا فيه القرابين. والواقع أن سليمان عليه السلام بنى مسجداً ولم يبن معبداً، وهذا المسجد تهدم بنيانه حجراً حجراً وزال أثره في حروب بني إسرائيل مع الممالك الوثنية. وقد أثبت العلماء المتخصصون بالأثار من الذين نقبوا في الحفريات تحت المسجد الأقصى أنه لا يوجد أثر واحد لهيكل سليمان، بل وجدوا آثاراً إسلامية يرجع تاريخها إلى الدولة الأموية والأيوبيّة وغيرهما.

والصهيانية يعتبرون بناء الهيكل هو القضية الكبرى والأهم، وتكاد تتفق كلمة المنظمات والجماعات اليهودية على ذلك، ومن هنا صار هدم المسجد وإزالة المعالم الإسلامية في القدس هدفاً رئيساً لهم.

والحقائق التاريخية تكذب ادّعاء اليهود؛ حيث لم يكن هناك بناء قائم مكان المسجد الأقصى حين فتح المسلمون بيت المقدس؛ بل جاء في موقعه الحالي على أساس قدسية هذه البقعة المباركة التي جاء ذكرها في القرآن والسنة.

وتبرز في بعض وسائل الإعلام صورة مسجد قبة الصخرة على أنه هو المسجد الأقصى، وهي خطة يهودية مأكرة لإشغال العالم عن الحفريات التي يقوم بها اليهود تحت المسجد الأمامي؛ تمهيداً لهدمه.

The Jews' Attempts to Demolish the Al-Aqsa Mosque and Build the Temple

Besides the current Jewish occupation of the State of Palestine, and despite all international conventions prohibiting the harm of sacred places and places of worship – the Zionist Occupation, and its associations and organizations, ceaselessly plot to demolish and destroy the Al-Aqsa Mosque, or burn it down and damage it.

The Jewish rabbis concocted a myth and attributed it to the Prophet of Allah, Solomon, to use it as an excuse to destroy the Al-Aqsa Mosque. They claim that under the mosque lies 'Solomon's Temple,' which is the remains of a massive temple. They allege that Solomon built it for the Jews to perform their rituals, carry out their religious ceremonies, and offer their sacrifices. However, the reality is that Solomon built a mosque, not a temple, and the building of that mosque was chipped away stone by stone, until its last remains vanished in the Israelites' wars with idolatrous kingdoms. Scholars who specialize in the archeological remains which were salvaged in excavations carried out under the Al-Aqsa Mosque have confirmed that there is no trace of Solomon's Temple, but they have found Islamic going back to the Umayyad dynasty, the Ayyubids and others.

The Zionists consider the construction of the temple to be the greatest and most important concern. Nearly all Jewish groups and organizations agree about this notion, which is why they have made the destruction of the Mosque and the removal of Islamic landmarks in Jerusalem to be a primary goal of theirs. The text recounted the history of the Al-Aqsa Mosque by comparing its “fall into the hands of the Zionist Occupation” to the Crusades, arguing this happened only because of the Muslims growing weak. In this context it was stated that Saudi Arabia supports the Palestinian cause—implying that the goal is to re-Islamize Jerusalem. The state of disrepair of the Temple Mount in the Byzantine period, before the Islamic conquest, was furthermore described as “the Christians’ filth,” which was “purified” by the Muslims.

The Al-Aqsa Mosque has its own place in the hearts of Muslims. The Prophet prayed in it as an imam to all the prophets, when he was taken to Jerusalem on a nightly journey before the Hijrah. In 15 AH, the Islamic conquests reached it and ‘Umar ibn Al-Khattab purified it of the Christians’ filth. Later, Saladin liberated it from the Crusaders, but then, as the Muslims weakened, it fell into the hands of the Zionist Occupation.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia places Jerusalem and Palestine in its top priority, whether it is support of the Palestinian cause in international organizations, financial aid, or international and regional conferences and meetings—one of the most important of which was the Jerusalem Summit, held in Dhahran in 1439 AH [2018] and was headed by the Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques, King Salman ibn ‘Abd al-‘Aziz, may Allah protect him.

A Grade 6 Islamic Education textbook teaches a hadith about a group of Jews wishing death upon the Prophet by greeting him with "Al-Sam Alaykum!" ["Death be upon you!"] instead of "As-Salam Alaykum!" ["Peace be upon you!"]. Paradoxically, this is presented as an example of the Prophet's generosity and tolerance: after his wife Aisha curses them in return, he asks her not to reply harshly, and explains he had answered in kind, "And upon you!," thus cursing them without using harsh language himself.

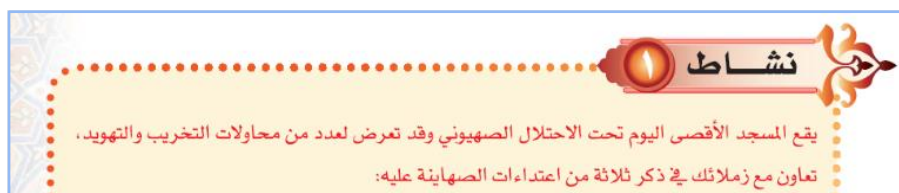

Extra information:

Transmitted by Aisha: "[Several] Jews came to the Prophet and said to him, "As-Sam Alaykum"! [Death be upon you!]. He replied, "And upon you." Aisha said to them, "Death be upon you, and may Allah curse you and shower His wrath upon you!" Allah's Messenger said, "Be gentle and calm, O Aisha! Be gentle and beware of being harsh and of saying evil things." She said, "Didn't you hear what they said?" He said, "Didn't you hear what I replied (to them)? I have returned their statement to them, and my invocation against them will be accepted but theirs against me will not be accepted."

In a high school Islamic Studies textbook, an activity on the Al-Aqsa Mosque, removed in 2020, instructed students to provide three examples of attempts to destroy and Judaize the mosque.

Activity 1:

The Al-Aqsa Mosque is subjected today to the Israeli occupation, and was exposed to a number of attempts to destroy and Judaize it. Work together with your classmates to state three Zionist attacks against it.

82. Hadith (2), Grades 10-12 (Humanities), 2019, p. 256.

Propagating antisemitic myths, students are required to fill in a table and explain how Zionism uses illicit means (money, politics, drugs, women and the media) to achieve its goals. The 2017 version of this textbook also included "family entertainment shows."

م	الوسيلة	أسلوب التوظيف
١	المال
٢	السياسة
٣	المرأة
٤	المخدرات
٥	الإعلام

Activity 2:

Explain how Zionism utilizes the following means to achieve its goals and realize its designs:

No.	Means	Application Method
1	Money
2	Politics
3	Women
4	Drugs
5	Media

The antisemitic trope that Israel is planning to expand from the Nile to the Euphrates to secure "Greater Israel" according to God's promise appears in this textbook. The 2019 version omits a third stage: "The global Jewish government, to control the entire world," which appeared previously.

أهداف الصهيونية

تتمثل الأهداف الصهيونية في منطقة المشرق العربي من خلال السعي للتوسع الإقليمي عبر ثلاث مراحل متعاقبة، وهي:

- أ دولة إسرائيل في فلسطين.
- ب دولة إسرائيل الكبرى في منطقة المشرق العربي.

وقد نجحت الصهيونية بمساعدة القوى الدولية كافة في تحقيق المرحلة الأولى، وذلك بإقامة دولة إسرائيل فيما بين عامي ١٣٦٧-١٣٨٧ هـ / ١٩٤٨-١٩٦٧ م على كامل الأراضي الفلسطينية.

ولا تزال الصهيونية تعمل جاهدة في سبيل تحقيق بقية أهدافها المرحلية الأخرى، وهي إقامة دولة إسرائيل الكبرى في منطقة المشرق العربي كما جاء في الوعد الإلهي المزعوم من النيل إلى الفرات.

The Goals of Zionism

The Zionist goals in the Arab East region aim at regional expansion in three successive stages:

A. The State of Israel in Palestine.

B. The Greater State of Israel in the Arab East region.

With the help of all the international powers, Zionism has succeeded in achieving the first stage, namely the establishment of the State of Israel in the years 1367–1387 H. / 1948–1967 on all the Palestinian lands.

Zionism continues to work hard in order to achieve the rest of its stage goals, which include the establishment the Greater State of Israel in the Arab East region, according to the claimed Divine Promise: from the Nile to the Euphrates.

84. Hadith (2), Grades 10–12 (Humanities), 2019, pp. 253–54.

Zionism's claims to religious-historical rights are considered invalid by this textbook, because the Jews refused to recognize the truthfulness of Muhammad. It also claims that they distorted the Hebrew Bible, so it cannot be deemed a reliable source as to the ownership of "Palestine."

١ الحق الديني

ومضمونه « الوعد الإلهي » لأنبياء بني إسرائيل — عليهم السلام — بتخليكهم ونسلهم ما بين النيل إلى الفرات». وهذا الحق — المزعوم — ساقط؛ لأن (العهد القديم) قد ثبت تحريفه، فلا يستبعد أن تكون هذه الوعود من التحريف الذي داخل أسفاره، ثم إن هذه الوعود — على فرض صحتها — مشروطة بطاعة الله تعالى، وهم قد عصوه وخالفوا أمره، ومما أمروا به: تصديق النبي محمد ﷺ، وهم لم يفعلوا ذلك.

The Religious Claim to Jerusalem

Its content is the 'Divine Promise to the prophet of the Israelites—peace be upon them—entitling them and their offspring to possess what lies between the Nile and the Euphrates [Rivers].'

But this—alleged—right falls [short]. That is because the Old Testament has proven to be distorted and it is not unlikely that these promises are included in the distortions within its books. And then, these promises—even if we assume their correctness—are conditional on obeying Allah. But they rebelled against Him and disobeyed Him. Among what they had been commanded: to recognize the truthfulness of the Prophet Muhammad, but they did not do so.

85. Hadith (2), Grades 10–12 (Humanities), 2019, p. 254.

A chapter on the "Zionist Danger" deals with the historical legitimacy of the State of Israel, arguing that whatever right Jews may claim, the Arabs were the first to "settle in Palestine" and that their presence there was uninterrupted. It further argues that the Jews ruled the land through other empires, but this was resolved when Muslims conquered the Byzantines (Christian-Romans) and took the land.

٢ الحق التاريخي

ومضمونه أن استيطان اليهود القدماء فلسطين، وإقامة كيان سياسي فيها، في فترات قصيرة ومتقطعة من الزمن، يعطيهم الحق في إقامة دولة قومية لليهود المعاصرين في فلسطين». وهذا الحق — المزعوم — ساقط أيضًا لما يأتي:

أ أن العرب أول من استوطن فلسطين، ولم ينقطع وجودهم فيها على مر التاريخ إلى يومنا هذا.

ب أن فلسطين قد تعاقب على حكمها عدة دول (المصريون، والعراقيون، والفرس، واليونان، والرومان)، وحكم اليهود ضمن هذه الدول، وقد استقر الأمر فيها للمسلمين، الذين فتحوا فلسطين وهي تحت حكم النصارى الرومان، لا اليهود، فهم أحق الناس بها.

This alleged [Jewish] right falls apart also because of the following:

A. The Arabs were the first to settle in Palestine, and their presence in it has not been cut throughout history until our present time.

B. Palestine was ruled by a series of states—the Egyptians, Iraqis, Persians, Greeks and Romans—and the Jews ruled it within the framework of these states. Its issue has been settled for the Muslims, who conquered Palestine while it had been under the rule of Christian-Romans, not the Jews.

86. Tafsir (2), Grades 10–12 (Humanities), 2019, p. 67.

The text warns Muslims against "resembling the people of Moses," because many envious Jews wanted believers to be unfaithful to Islam. This example is from the Qur'anic Al-Baqarah surah, which has now been entirely removed.

يرد الله تعالى على الطاعنين في وحيه، القائلين أن محمدًا يأمر أصحابه اليوم بأمر، وينهاهم عنه غدًا، بأنه تعالى له الحكمة البالغة فهو ينسخ ما يشاء من الأحكام لحكم يعلمها سبحانه، كما يرشدنا تعالى إلى التسليم لله والانقياد لنبيه ﷺ والتحذير من مشابهة قوم موسى حين سألوا نبيهم ما لا ينبغي، ويخبر سبحانه بأن الكثير من اليهود تمنوا لو أرجعوكم إلى الكفر، لأنهم يحسدونكم على الهداية والإسلام، فاصفحوا حتى يأذن الله بقتالهم أو إجلائهم، وقوموا بأداء العبادات لتنالوا ثواب الله تعالى.

The text warns about resembling the people of Moses when they asked their Prophet what should not be asked. Allah informed that many Jews wished that you would return to infidelity [kufr] because they are envious of the guidance and Islam. Ignore [them] until Allah will permit fighting and banishing them. Meanwhile, continue with your worshipping so you gain Allah's reward.

87. Tafsir (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, p. 96.

The centrality of jihad war in Islam is uncontested; it is described as the climax of the Islamic faith, just like the camel's hump. This example is from the Qur'anic At-Tawbah (the Repentance) surah which has been entirely removed from the textbooks.

الجهاد في سبيل الله ذروة سنام الإسلام، وقد فرضه الله صدا لكل من يتربص بالمسلمين الدوائر، مما يحتم الاستعداد التام، والتهيؤ للنفير في كل لحظة، إذا دعا ولي الأمر لذلك.

Jihad in the way of Allah is the climax of Islam [the peak of the hump of Islam]. Allah has mandated it to oppose anyone who lurks in the flanks of Muslims, which requires overall readiness and preparation for mobilization at any moment, if the ruler calls for it.

This passage is an incitement to hatred against gay men, stating they should be punished by death. The "crime of Sodomy" is graphically defined for high school students and includes specific prohibitions. This is from a particularly notable chapter about the penalties decreed by Islam for crimes such as apostasy, sodomy and homosexuality, that has now been entirely withdrawn from the curriculum.

جريمة اللواط

اللوواط جريمة مستبشعة، ومعصية منكرة، ظهرت عند أمة سالفة، هي أمة لوط، فعاقبهم الله عقوبة لم يعاقب بها أحداً غيرهم؛ ليكونوا عبرة لمن بعدهم، ورادعاً لمن انتكست فطرته، وسولت له نفسه الوقوع في هذه الجريمة أن يصيبه ما أصابهم، فقال سبحانه:

﴿وَلُوطٌ إِذْ قَالَ لِقَوْمِهِ أَتَأْتُونَ الْفَاحِشَةَ مَا سَبَقَكُمْ بِهَا مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنَ الْعَالَمِينَ ﴿٨٠﴾ إِنَّكُمْ لَتَأْتُونَ الرِّجَالَ شَهْوَةً مِنْ دُونِ الْنِسَاءِ بَلْ أَنْتُمْ قَوْمٌ مُّسْرِفُونَ ﴿٨١﴾﴾^(١)

وأخبر سبحانه عن كيفية عقابهم فقال: ﴿فَلَمَّا جَاءَ أَمْرُنَا جَعَلْنَا عَنِيبَهَا سَافِلَهَا وَأَمْطَرْنَا عَلَيْهَا حِجَابَةً مِنْ سِجِّيلٍ مُنْضُودٍ ﴿٨٢﴾ مُّسَوِّمَةً عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ وَمَا هِيَ مِنَ الظَّالِمِينَ بِبَعِيدٍ ﴿٨٣﴾﴾^(٢)

تعريف اللواط

هو وطاء الذكر في الذكر.

وقال بعض العلماء: عقوبة اللواط: القتل، فيقتل الفاعل والمفعول به، سواء أكانا محصنين أم غير محصنين. قال شيخ الإسلام ابن تيمية رحمه الله: (والصحيح الذي اتفقت عليه الصحابة: أن يقتل الاثنان الأعلى والأسفل، سواء كانا محصنين، أم غير محصنين. فإن أهل السنن رووا عن ابن عباس رضي الله تعالى عنهما، عن النبي ﷺ قال: «من وجدتموه يعمل عمل قوم لوط، فاقتلوا الفاعل والمفعول به»^{(١)(٢)}).

Sodomy [lawat] is a repugnant crime, a reprehensible sin that appeared among a former nation, the nation of Lot. Allah gave them a punishment no one else had received before, so they would become a lesson for those who came after them, and a deterrent for anyone whose innate human nature [fitra] degenerated, and his soul had tempted him to fall into this crime; he will be struck in the same manner as happened to them [nation of Lot, i.e., Sodomy].

And [We had sent] Lot when he said to his people, 'Do you commit such immorality such as no one in creation [ever] committed before you? Indeed, you approach men with desire, instead of women. Rather, you are a transgressing people.' [Al-A'raf 7: 80–81]

So when Our command came, we turned [the cities] upside down and rained down on them brimstones hard as baked clay, spread layer on layer. Marked as from your Lord: And Allah's punishment is not far from the wrongdoers. [Hud 11: 82–83]

Definition of Sodomy

Male intercourse in the anus.

Several scholars of religion said that the punishment of sodomy is death. Both the one who does it, and the one to whom it is done, are to be killed, whether they are married or not.

Sheik of Islam, Ibn Taymiyya, may God have mercy on him, said: 'The truth that the companions of the Prophet agreed upon, is: both the top one and the bottom one are to be killed, whether they are married or not.' Adherents of the Sunnah have told about Ibn Abbas, may Allah Almighty be pleased with them, [who told] about the Prophet, who said: 'Whoever you find doing the action of the people of Lot, kill the one who does it, and the one to whom it is done.'

89. Fiqh (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, p. 256.

Gay men are accused of being the main cause of calamities and disease. God, it is taught, will punish society with epidemics, and will spread diseases and disaster "if sodomy appears in society." Homosexuality is cited as destroying morality and positive character. This example is from the same withdrawn textbook.

الحكمة من تغليظ عقوبته
حرم الله اللواط وغلظ في عقوبته لما له من آثار سيئة على الفرد والمجتمع:
فهو انتكاسة في الفطرة، وفساد في الطبع، يقتل الفضيلة، ويهدم الأخلاق. يورث في نفس مرتكبه الرذيلة والدناءة، فيقضي على الحياء، ويميت الغيرة في النفوس.
من ارتكب هذه الجريمة لم يزل يعير بها بين الناس في حياته، ولم يفارق خزيتها مخيلته حتى وفاته. ولا يقف عارها على مرتكبها فقط، بل يمتد ليشمل الأسرة والقبيلة برمتها.
وإذا ظهر اللواط في مجتمع فإن الله يعاجل أهله بالعقوبة، فتحل الكوارث والأسقام، وتنتشر الأوبئة والأمراض، ويخيم الظلم ويعم الفساد في الأرض، نسأل الله السلامة والعافية.

The Wisdom Behind Intensifying its [Sodomy's] Punishment:

Allah forbade sodomy and intensified the punishment for it because of its negative effect on the individual and society:

It degenerates the innate human nature [fitra], it corrupts character, it eliminates decency and it destroys morality. It bequeaths depravity and wretchedness in the perpetrator's soul, as it ends life and kills inner zealotry.

Whoever perpetrates this crime will continue throughout his life to be disgraced for it among people, and his shame won't be able to be separated from his life until he dies. Its disgrace doesn't affect only the perpetrator, but it extends also to include the entire family and tribe.

If sodomy appears in society, Allah will hurry to punish its population, which will result in catastrophes and illnesses, in the spreading of plagues and diseases, and in the predominance of injustice and corruption in the land.

Hostility to infidels is "faith's firmest bond."

موالاة المؤمنين ومعاداة الكافرين أوثق عرى الإيمان، كما قال ﷺ: «أَفْضَلُ الْأَعْمَالِ
الْحُبُّ فِي اللَّهِ وَالْبَغْضُ فِي اللَّهِ»^(١).

Adhering to believers and being hostile towards infidels is faith's firmest bond, as the Almighty said: 'The best of the actions is to love for the sake of Allah and to hate for the sake of Allah'

91. Fiqh (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, p. 251.

Students are taught about apostasy, and that the punishment for it is death, disregarding any of his good deeds, and eternity in Hell. However, an apostate who wishes to repent will be able to return to his religion.⁴⁶

عقوبة الردة في الدنيا

حد الردة هو القتل، وقد ورد في السنة عدة نصوص تؤكد هذا الحكم.
ومن وقع في الردة فإنه يستتاب لعله يراجع دينه، وبهذا يفتح له باب التوبة.
فإن تاب كفر الله عنه خطيئته، ولم يحبط عمله السابق؛ لقوله تعالى:

عقوبته في الآخرة

إذا مات المرتد على ردة فعقوبته هي الخلود في النار وحبوط عمله الصالح الذي عمله قبل ردة؛ لقوله تعالى: ﴿وَمَنْ يَرْتَدِدْ مِنْكُمْ عَنْ دِينِهِ—فَيَمُتْ وَهُوَ كَافِرٌ فَأُولَٰئِكَ حَبِطَتْ أَعْمَالُهُمْ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ وَأُولَٰئِكَ أَصْحَابُ النَّارِ هُمْ فِيهَا خَالِدُونَ﴾ (٢).

The Punishment of Apostasy in the World

The punishment of apostasy is death, as several texts in the Sunnah explain this verdict.

If an apostate asks to repent and maybe return to his religion, the door of repentance will open to him.

If he repents, Allah will forgive him for his sin and won't deem his former deeds worthless.

His Punishment in the Afterlife

If the apostate dies, his punishment will be eternity in Hell and then his righteous deeds prior to his apostasy will be considered worthless, because the Almighty said: 'And whoever of you reverts from his religion [to disbelief] and dies while he is a disbeliever—for those, their deeds have become worthless in this world and the Hereafter, and those are the companions of the Fire, they will abide therein eternally.' (Al-Baqarah [The Cow] 27)

92. Tawhid (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, p. 165.

This Tawhid textbook warns against participating in the festivals of infidels.

• ومن أشد حالات التشبه بالكفار: مشاركة الكفار في أعيادهم، فإن ذلك من أعظمها شراً وضرراً، وأكثرها انتشاراً بين المسلمين، وهذه المشاركة محرمة، لما فيها من الموافقة لهم فيما ليس من ديننا، كما أن تلك الأعياد من البدع المحدثه، وقد أثنى الله على عباده المؤمنين فوصفهم بقوله سبحانه: ﴿وَالَّذِينَ لَا يَشْهَدُونَ الزُّورَ﴾ (٤).

One of the severe cases of imitating infidels is participating in their holidays. This practice is one of the vilest, damaging and popular among the Muslims. Such participation is forbidden because it contains agreement to what is not our religion. These festivals are new innovations, which Allah forbade on His believing worshipers and described them as 'Those who witness no falsehood.' (Furqan [The Criterion] 25:72)

⁴⁶ Although this example was indeed removed in 2020, similar content was also featured in Tawhid 3, Grades 10–12, Level 5 (Literature and Qur'an), 2019, p. 21. IMPACT-se has not yet obtained this textbook's 2020 version; it is unclear whether this content is still being taught in 2020, in a different textbook.

93. Tawhid (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2020, p. 151. (Previously—Tawhid 1, Grades 10–12 [Joint Track], 2019, p. 151.)

Example Altered.⁴⁷

When teaching high schoolers about sorcery, in the 2020 edition this textbook omitted the explanation that convicted sorcerers could be condemned to execution for concocting "mixtures and medicines." The passage now is much more general, and does not refer to any punishment whatsoever.

2020 Version:

السحر نوعان:
النوع الأول: من هو كافر أكبر، إذا كانت وسيلته الشياطين الذين يتقرب إليهم بأنواع من القرابين.
النوع الثاني: ما هو كافر غير مخرج من الملة وهو سحر الشعوذة والدجل وقد يكون بنوع من الأخلاط والأدوية.

There are two types of sorcery:

The first: being great infidelity if devils were the cause, who approach them with different kinds of oblations. The second: being infidelity that does not exclude one from the nation and it is the sorcery of charlatanism and swindling.

2019 Version:

السحر نوعان:
النوع الأول: من هو كافر إذا كانت وسيلته الشياطين، ولهذا يقتل هذا الساحر ردة، وقتله موكل إلى ولي الأمر أو من ينبيهه.
النوع الثاني: ما هو كافر غير مخرج من الملة وهو سحر الشعوذة والدجل وقد يكون بنوع من الأخلاط والأدوية وهذا يعزر ولو بالقتل كفاً لشربه وأذاه عن المسلمين وتعزيره وقتله موكل إلى ولي الأمر أو من ينبيهه.

There are two types of sorcery:

The first: being infidelity if devils were the cause; therefore, the sorcerer will be killed for apostasy. His execution is entrusted to the ruler or whomever he assigns.

The second: being infidelity that does not exclude one from the nation and it is the sorcery of charlatanism and swindling, which may include concoctions of mixtures and medicines. The punishment can be up to the level of killing because of its evil and harm to Muslims. His execution is entrusted to the ruler or whomever he assigns.

⁴⁷ This example remained in the 2020 edition of the textbooks, but its content was moderated.

94. Tawhid (1), Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, pp. 160–61.

This textbook states that favoring human law (or positive law—al-qanun al-wadh'i) over Shari'a law, or doubting the more severe punishments (hudud), is considered infidelity.

ثالثاً: حكم من لم يحكم بما أنزل الله:

وقد بين العلماء المحققون أن الحكم بغير ما أنزل الله يكون كفراً أكبر في الحالات الآتية:

- ١- من ادعى حق التشريع والتحليل والتحريم.
- فإن الله تعالى وحده هو المتفرد بالتشريع والتحليل والتحريم، فالتشريع حق خالص لله وحده لا شريك له، ومن نازعه في شيء منه فهو مشرك، لقوله تعالى: ﴿لَهُمْ مِنَ الَّذِينَ مَا لَمْ يَأْذَنْ بِهِ اللَّهُ﴾^(١).
- ٢- من فضّل حكم القانون الوضعي على حكم الله تعالى.
- ٣- من ساوى بين حكم الله تعالى وحكم البشر، واعتقد التماثل بينهما.
- فهذا كفر أكبر يخرج من الملة، لما يقتضيه من تسوية المخلوق بالخالق، والمناقضة لقوله تعالى: ﴿لَيْسَ كَمِثْلِهِ شَيْءٌ﴾^(١).
- ٤- أن يعتقد أن الحكم بما أنزل الله تعالى غير واجب، وأنه مخير فيه.
- فهذا كفر أكبر، حيث لم يعتقد ما علم بالنصوص الصريحة من وجوب إفراد الله تعالى بالحكم.
- ٥- أن يعتقد أن إقامة الحدود وحشية لا تناسب العصر.

Scholar researchers explained that judgment that is not in accordance with what Allah sent down is the greatest infidelity in the following situations:

1. Whoever fakes the right of legislation, analysis, and forbiddance . . . Whoever altercates with any of it is a polytheist.
2. Whoever prefers human law over the law of Allah Almighty.
3. Whoever compares the law of Allah Almighty to human law, and thinks they have similarities. This is the greatest infidelity, which is an apostasy . . .
4. Whoever believes that the law that Allah Almighty sent down isn't obligatory and it includes free choice. This is the greatest infidelity . . .
5. Whoever believes that fulfilling the punishments (hudud) is barbaric and that it does not have a place in this age.

This religious studies textbook also proffers a negative definition of Zionism, stating that it is "a globally organized Jewish racist political movement."

تعريف الصهيونية

الصهيونية: حركة سياسية عنصرية يهودية عالمية منظمّة، تسعى إلى تهجير يهود العالم إلى فلسطين وجعلها دولة لهم.

The Definition of Zionism

Zionism: A globally organized Jewish racist political movement, which aims for the immigration of the Jews in the world into Palestine, and for making it a state for them.

96. Hadith (2), Grades 10–12 (Humanities), 2019, p. 255.

Students are taught how to confront Zionism, including by refuting the rights of Jews in Palestine and defending the Palestinian people from "oppression, aggression, killing, displacement and humiliation" [by Jews]. Zionists are described as enemies of Muslim countries.

الموقف من الصهيونية

إن مواجهة الصهيونية تتم بعدة أساليب، أهمها:

- ١ تفنيد ادعاءات الصهيونية حول أحقية اليهود في فلسطين.
- ٢ السعي في مناصرة الشعب الفلسطيني، ومداخلة ما يقع عليه من الظلم والعدوان، والقتل والتشريد والإذلال.
- ٣ أن تسعى الدول الإسلامية على الأخذ بأسباب القوة؛ المادية والمعنوية، حتى تسلم من تسلط أعدائها من الصهاينة وغيرهم.

Attitude toward Zionism

Confronting Zionism requires a number of methods:

1. Refutation of Zionism's claim over the right of Jews over Palestine.
2. Striving to support the Palestinian people, and defend it from oppression, aggression, killing, displacement and humiliation.
3. Islamic countries should empower themselves materially and morally to be delivered from the Zionists and their other enemies.

97. Hadith (2), Grades 10–12 (Humanities), 2019, p. 254.

Zionism's effects on the Islamic World include "wars and struggles that heavily damage society," as well as the slaughter and expulsion of Palestinians, the occupation of Al-Aqsa Mosque, Southern Lebanon and the Golan Heights.

آثار الصهيونية على العالم الإسلامي

من أبرز آثار الصهيونية على العالم الإسلامي ما يأتي:

- ١ احتلال فلسطين التي تحوي المسجد الأقصى، مسرى الرسول ﷺ وأولى القبليتين، وثالث المسجدين الشريفين.
- ٢ تقتيل وتشريد شعب فلسطين، وممارسة أسوأ أنواع العنصرية ضد من آثر البقاء في وطنه.
- ٣ احتلال بعض المناطق العربية الأخرى كالجولان وجنوب لبنان.
- ٤ الحروب والصراعات التي سببت أضراراً كثيرة اجتماعية وتدمية وسياسية.

Zionism's effect on the Islamic World:

Among the most noticeable effects of Zionism on the Islamic world are:

1. Occupying Palestine, which includes the Al-Aqsa Mosque—[the destination of] the Messenger's night journey, the first direction of prayer, and the third holy mosque.
2. Slaughtering and expelling the Palestinian people, as well as acting in the most racist way against those who preferred to stay in their homeland.
3. Occupying several other Arab territories, such as the Golan and Southern Lebanon.
4. Wars and struggles that heavily damage society, development, and policy.

98. Social Studies, Grades 10–12 (Joint Track), 2019, p. 125.

Colonialism includes "deporting the original inhabitants and their expulsion or extermination." One of the examples given is "the 'occupation' of the Land of Palestine.

نوع الاستعمار	تعريفه	أمثله
الاستعمار الاستيطاني	هجرة مجموعات من سكان دولة أجنبية قوية إلى أخرى ضعيفة؛ لتأسيس مستوطنات استعمارية لها، مع طرد السكان الأصليين وتشريدهم أو إبادةهم أو إزاحتهم في المجتمع الجديد.	• ما فعله الإسبان تجاه السكان الأصليين في أمريكا الوسطى والجنوبية واستيطان البرتغاليين في أرض البرازيل وفرض ثقافتهم ولغتهم عليها. • ما فعله الإنجليز تجاه السكان الأصليين في أمريكا الشمالية وأستراليا. • احتلال أرض فلسطين. • الاستعمار الأوروبي لإفريقيا الوسطى وروديسيا (زيمبابوي).

Type of colonial-ism	Definition	Examples
Settler colonial-ism	Immigration of groups of residents from foreign powerful countries to weaker ones, in order to build colonial settlements for them, while deporting the original inhabitants and expelling / exterminating / integrating them into the new society.	- What the Spanish did to the native Americans in Central and South America, and the Portuguese that settled in Brazil and forced their culture and language upon them. - What the English did to the native Americans in North America and also in Australia. - The occupation of the Land of Palestine. - The European colonialism in Central Africa and Rhodesia (Zimbabwe.)

Example Altered⁴⁸:

A hadith about a wife who is stoned to death for committing adultery with her servant (who is punished with one hundred lashes and exile for one year, because he is unmarried) has been replaced in 2020 with a hadith about a thief who is punished by having his hand cut off.

2020 Version:

٢- عن أبي أمية المخزومي رضي الله عنه قال: أتى رسول الله ﷺ بلص قد اعترف اعترافاً ولم يوجد معه متاع، قال له رسول الله ﷺ: (ما أخالك سرقت)، قال: بلى، فأعادها عليه مرتين أو ثلاثاً، فأمر به ففقطع.^(١)

2. Abu Umayyah al-Makhzumi reported that a thief was brought to the Messenger of Allah and he admitted his crime, although the stolen goods were not found with him. The Messenger of Allah said to him: 'I do not think you stole them.' He said: 'Yes I did.' This was repeated twice or three times, so he ordered that his hand be cut off.

2019 Version:

٢- عن أبي هريرة وزيد بن خالد الجهني رضي الله عنهما في قصة العسيف الذي زنا بالمرأة .. وفيه: فقال رسول الله ﷺ: «... وأعد يا أنيس إلى امرأة هذا: فإن اعترفت فارجمها». قال: فعدا عليها فأعترفت، «فأمر بها رسول الله ﷺ فرجمت». متفق عليه.^(١)

2. Abu Huraira and Zaid bin Khalid al-Juhani reported the story of the servant that fornicated with the wife . . . in it, Allah's Messenger said: ' . . . and, O Unais, go to this [man's] wife in the morning, and if she makes a confession, then stone her.' He [the narrator] said: 'He went to her in the morning and she made a confession. And Allah's Messenger made a pronouncement about her and she was stoned to death.'

The portrayal of Iran appears to have been moderated in 2020, as the textbook's reference to the Persian "occupation" in the Arabian Peninsula was removed and replaced with a neutral description of the Sassanid dynasty, based on Persia vying for control of the region with the Byzantine Empire. The 2017 version drew attention to Persian "influence" in the Arabian Peninsula.

A 2017 social studies textbook described Jews as having a “treacherous and perfidious nature,” teaching that the Jews of ancient Medina tried to fight Muhammad and Islam by any means possible. The textbook did not address the Medina conflicts as a historical episode in a particular context; rather, Jewish treachery is assumed to be eternal and still relevant. This is clear from a question about a country that “still suffers from the treachery of Jews.”

وبالرغم من المعاهدة؛ إلا أن اليهود غلبت عليهم طبيعة الغدر والخيانة، فقابلوا الحسنى بالإساءة فأنكروا رسالة محمد ﷺ وهم يعلمون أنها حق، وراحوا ينفرون الناس من الإسلام ويشككونهم في أصوله وتعاليمه، بل زعموا أن الوثنية خير منه، ولم يتركوا وسيلة لمحاربة الإسلام والمسلمين إلا اتخذوها.

٢- ما الدولة التي لا تزال تعاني من غدر اليهود؟

Regardless of the treaty, the Jews succumbed to their treacherous and perfidious nature, and returned evil for good. They rejected the message of Muhammad even though they knew it was truthful. They began to alienate people from Islam and cast doubt on its origins and teachings. They even claimed that paganism was better [than Islam] and they did not leave any means to fight Islam and the Muslims without resorting to it.

2 – Which country still suffers from the treachery of Jews?

An interpretation of a Qur’anic Surah, removed in 2019, encourages students to expose the false beliefs of the People of the Book [Christians and Jews] and to fight them, so that they pay the jizya [non-Muslim tax].

٦- فضح أهل الكتاب، وبيان زيف عقائدهم، والحث على قتالهم حتى يعطوا الجزية.

This high school textbook from 2017 taught that Islam is a middle way between “exaggeration and alienation” - Christianity, which worships Jesus as God, and the Jews, who killed their prophets and renounced their religion. The text further stated that God has cursed the Jews and Christians for disobeying Him.

دين الأنبياء وسط بين الغلو والجفاء، ولقد غلا النصارى في عيسى حتى ألوهوه وعبدوه، وابتدعوا رهبانية تحرم الطيبات، وتمنع اللذات، وتدمر الحياة، وكان من اليهود الجفاء والتفريط، وقتل الأنبياء، والإعراض عن دينهم. ولقد لعن الله السابقين منهم واللاحقين، على ألسنة أنبيائهم، بسبب عصيانهم، وعدم تناهيهم عن المنكر، ولميلهم إلى الكفار وتوليهم، وذلك بالدفاع عنهم، وحمايتهم من جهاد المؤمنين الصادقين.

The religion of the prophets is a middle way between exaggeration and alienation. The Christians have exaggerated by glorifying Jesus and worshipping him as God. They originated [a heretic] monasticism depriving the goods, preventing pleasures, and destroying life. And from the Jews there was alienation and inattention, and the killing of the prophets, and renunciation of their religion. Allah has cursed the former [Jews] among them and the subsequent [Christians], in the sayings of their prophets, because of their disobedience, failing to denounce evil, and because of their inclination to the infidels [kuffar], tending, defending and protecting them from the jihad of the faithful believers.

In 2018, a sentence was removed from a high school textbook on Islam teaching that a person who mocks God or the Prophet Muhammad is an apostate who should be killed unless he repents. Instead of this sentence, the 2019 edition teaches that such a person should be judged according to the Shari'a, without mentioning any particular punishment.
